Preacher, Who Is Patient

tal, Does Not Plan To Return To Columbus.

Columbus, Ga., September 21.—(AP) William T. Glover, head of the Glover Detective agency here, announced this afternoon that he had written a letter to the chief of police at Charlotte, N. C., asking that a warrant charging bigamy be sworn out against the Rev. Willis J. Jordon. The letter, Mr. Glover stated, was written at the authorization and request of the woman an here who claims she married the minister in Charlotte on August 19, Justice of the Peace J. M. Alexander performing the ceremony.

The woman here claiming to be Mrs. Jordon says she was Mrs. Emma Landridge, of Washington, and was married to the evangelist by long distance telephone two years and seven months before the ceremony was performed in Charlotte.

Mr. Glover stated also that efforts were being made to get in touch with a Mrs. Snyder, who lived at 411 Second avenue, Roanoke, Va., but who was originally from Herndon, W. Va. She, Glover stated, was also married to Jordon.

The evangelist, according to the detective, is reported likewise to have been married at Winona, Minn., and Akron, Ohio. The chief of police of Columbus said he was awaiting the result of Mr. Glover's letter before answering a telegram received from Superintendent of Police A. A. Carroll, of Grand Rapids, relative to the possibility of preferring charges against Jordon.

RECORD SHOWS
LICENSE ISSUED.

Charlotte, N. C., September 21.—(AP) Search of the marriage license records here this afternoon showed that a man giving his name as the Rev. W. T. Jordon, 55, of Madison, Wis., obtained a license on August 19, last, to marry Emma A. Landridge, of Washington, D. C.

Mr. Alexander, a justice of the peace, this afternoon told the Associated Press that he married Rev. Jordon and Mrs. Landridge on August 19. He said he noted that they were apparently well educated and intelligent people and that there appeared at the time to have been no reason to suspect anything wrong with the marriage.

NOT TO RETURN TO COLUMBUS.

Grand Rapids, Mich., September 21.—(AP) Rev. Willis F. Jordon, formerly of Columbus, Ga., who is ill at a local hospital, planned today to leave here as soon as he is discharged from the institution.

The minister, who disappeared from his home in Columbus last week, did not disclose his destination. He indicated, however, he would not return to Columbus. It was at first reported

FROST IN VIRGINIA BRINGS OUT COATS, STARTS LOG FIRES

Roanoke, Va., September 21.—(AP) A drop in temperature of 50 degrees has brought reports of frost from numerous points in southwest Virginia. Early this morning the thermometer registered 46, five degrees lower than yesterday. Top coats and furs again came into prominence, as well as grate fires, following a solid week of oppressive heat.

GIBBY GIVEN 7 TO 11 YEARS, GARRETT FREE

Jury Reaches Both Verdicts in Thwaite's Slay-ing After Short Time Out.

VICTIM STABBED
DURING QUARREL

Convicted Man on Stand

Acted in Self-Defense,
During Fight.

Tom Gibby was convicted of voluntary manslaughter and given 7-11 years in the killing of T. J. Thwaite, Garrett Gibby's companion, was acquitted. The jury returned the verdict at 5:55 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. After Solicitor General John A. Boykin had delivered the closing argument for the state in the trial of Tom Gibby and his brother-in-law, J. C. Garrett, charged jointly with murder in connection with the killing of Thomas J. Thwaite near Lakewood park April 14, the case was submitted to the jury late Wednesday afternoon. Arguments for the defense were delivered by W. M. Bailey and Thomas J. Ripley.

Gibby is 18 years old and Garrett is 22 years old. Both of them testified under oath in their case, an unusual procedure in Georgia law, here defendants charged with murder are permitted to make sworn statements to the jury without undergoing cross-examination from the prosecution. Attorneys for the men refused to place each one on the stand under oath and they were subjected to severe cross-examination by the solicitor general after they had testified. They declared that they killed Thwaite in self-defense.

Thwaite Intoxicated, Claim.
Garrett and Gibby testified that Thwaite was intoxicated and while the three were riding in an automobile Thwaite ran the machine over an embankment near Lakewood park. They testified that Gibby suggested that a wrecker be called, the suggestion infuriating Thwaite, who attacked Gibby, knocking him down twice. Garrett said he tried to separate the two men but Thwaite knocked Gibby down again and was beating him when the cutting occurred. Gibby declared he had Thwaite several times. He said he "kept on cutting him" until Thwaite got off of him.

T. D. Shaw, lieutenant of police, testified that Gibby told him after the killing that Thwaite was cut by three negroes. Shaw said Gibby later changed his story and admitted that he had done the cutting. Solicitor General Boykin attacked the story of the two men and declared that they had attacked Thwaite before the automobile was wrecked. He said after the cutting the men had run the machine over the bank to make it appear that Thwaite had been killed accidentally. The trial has been in progress two days.

PILSUDSKI HOLDS POWER IN POLAND. SENATE EJECTED

(Copyright, 1927, by The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)
Warsaw, September 21.—(AP) Marshal Pilsudski tonight stands alone the sole master of Poland after sending an order to the senate and lower house of parliament to adjourn for 30 days. When the senate session started this morning Marshal Pilsudski's military adjutant appeared and read a decree of prorogation signed by President Moscicki, who is Pilsudski's tool, and the senators were chased out like a lot of naughty boys. This afternoon they sent a protest against this violation of the constitution to President Moscicki.

The commissions, several of which have been provided for by treaty, become active only in event of dispute between the countries concerned. No fixed salary is attached to the position. The state department recently has been endeavoring to fill a number of vacancies in the commissions.

Father Begg for Truth In Cleveland Baby Case

Cleveland, Ohio, September 21.—(AP) "All I want is the truth," Sam Smith, father of the central figure in Cleveland's "baby puzzle," pleaded today when Dr. W. B. Glendonning examined his children. "If hospital officials will tell me the real truth about what happened, then I will believe them and take this baby home."

"If they continue doing as they are now, I might as well throw the baby away. I don't want it," the father continued.

Dr. Glendonning examined Smith's three girls and one boy today to study characteristics in the children that might unearth a clue to their relationship to the baby girl in the hospital. The doctor declared that 2-year-old Peter Smith, whom he examined, "has the same expression as the child at the hospital." He also noted similarities of the ears of Angelina, 10, to Mrs. Smith and the baby girl she now nurses but disclaims. He particularly noted facial characteristics of the three girls and took notes for presentation at tomorrow's hearing in common pleas court.

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., September 21.—(United News.)—Two great planes roared into the west tonight in the first non-stop international transcontinental race in the history of aviation. Canada and the United States are vying for air honors.

A third plane, the Air King, piloted by Steve Lacey, failed to get into the air. Lacey, with fuel, it rumbled to a stop just before the "death clutch" at the runway's end, snapped a tail skid, bent its rudder, and apparently was out of the race.

The Stinson-Detroit designed and piloted by Eddie Stinson and with Fred Koehler, another Detroit, as navigator, representing the United States, was away first. It took the air at 2 p. m. (eastern standard time).

Duke Schiller's Stinson monoplane Royal Windsor, with Schiller at the stick, representing Canada, left the runway at 2:11 p. m. (eastern standard time).

A prize of $40,000 awaits the first pilot to reach Spokane, Wash.

Siamese Twins Pass Illness Danger Point

Influenza of One Threatens
Both; Doctors Wage Bitter Struggle.

Holyoke, Mass., September 21.—(United News.)—Convinced that death of one would prove fatal to the other, physicians continued today their fight to save Mary and Margaret Gibbe, Siamese twins whose lives are imperiled by influenza which has attacked one of the girls.

Hope ran high as their condition began to improve and late today it was announced by Dr. E. P. Bagz, Jr., that the sisters have passed the danger point in their gallant battle with death.

Only one of the twins, Mary, is seriously ill, but through the inseparable link which has joined them since birth, the life of the other, Margaret, was the one in danger and Mary played the heroic role of keeping up the spirits of her inseparable sister.

Surgeons here are unanimous in declaring that only by a miracle could one sister survive the death of the other. While the nature of the bond which unites them is a mystery to science, surgeons are certain that it would be fatal to attempt to operate either now or after the death of one. Outside of cases of colds and other ailments to which any child is heir, the sisters, though welded together by freakish nature, are entirely normal. When young, they have even danced and played billiards. Through long experience they have learned to adapt their actions to each other so that they can move

In their 14 years the twins have had few illnesses. For the past several years they have visited many cities in this country on vaudeville tours.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Gibbs, parents of the famous twins, were greatly encouraged today by a drop in Mary's high temperature and the doctor's optimistic bulletin late today.

"While, of course, we do not know what the future holds, we are more hopeful today," Mrs. Gibbs said.

Sarona, Ont., September 21.—(United News.)—Whippings at stated intervals during their 20 to 25 years imprisonment were included in the sentences of four young men convicted of dragging a boy, 20, from an automobile, beating up her escort and attacking her.

A hushed and crowded courtroom heard Justice Meredith order the lash for the prisoners.

Arthur Archer was sentenced to be whipped twice with five strokes each during the first year of his 20-year confinement.

Philip Robinson will feel the sting of the lash three times during the first 18 months of his 25-year sentence, receiving seven strokes on each occasion.

Robert Spinks and Fred Wales, each sentenced to 20 years, will be whipped twice during their first year, five strokes each time.

Elimination of the Wall street connection bridge and cast and west Alabama street approaches to the Pryor street and Central avenue viaducts to bring construction costs within the amount of funds available for creation of the projects was seen Wednesday following a conference between William B. Hartfield, chairman of the bridge committee of city council, and William A. Hansell, chief of construction.

The elimination was suggested by Mr. Hartfield, but will not be put into effect unless the city faces "a real financial crisis" after bids for construction are received. They would save about $300,000, according to estimates, and obviate the necessity of accepting a proffered contribution of $400,000 from the Georgia Power company on condition that the city enter into an agreement to bar jitneys and busses from the streets of Atlanta in competition to traction service of the company.

At the same conference figures released in The Constitution Wednesday pointing to a deficit of approximately $302,000 in estimates made by the construction department and a board of realty appraisers were carefully checked and all statistics quoted in the story were verified with the exception of the item of viaduct bonds available for the work.

This showed that $379,244.71 is still in the treasury to the credit of the viaducts instead of $376,000, a difference of $3,244.71, and makes the total amount of money available for construction of the improvements $1,879,244.71 instead of $1,577,000. Thus the deficit based on figures submitted to the bond commission and Mr. Hansell only $238,755.29 instead of $302,000.

Despite issuance of two letters by city tax assessors, scoring the appraisal of real estate men of the property which the city must acquire to erect the projects at a figure 100 per cent in excess of valuations the assessors have placed upon it, the report which was filed Tuesday with Frank H. Newby, chairman of the Atlanta bond commission, and with Mr. Hansell stood. Tax assessors

POWER COMPANY EMPLOYEE KILLED BY ELECTROCUTION

H. M. Estes, 45, of Center Hill, lineman of the Georgia Power company, died about 6:30 o'clock Wednesday night at Davis-Fischer hospital following injuries and burns he received late Wednesday afternoon when he came in contact with a high voltage line at the Edgewood avenue substation.

According to officials of the company, Mr. Estes was working on an oil switch and when his body came in contact with a 19,000-volt line he lost his balance and fell to the pavement, almost head first.

He was rushed immediately to the hospital and doctors stated that he suffered a fractured skull and serious burns about the body.

The body of Mr. Estes was removed to the undertaking parlors of Blanchard Brothers, pending funeral arrangements, which have not been completed.

Perishing America's greatest military genius, pointedly asked in his address before the convention yesterday for the reason why nations cannot learn to deal with each other after the same code of honor demanded among individuals.

Poisoning Mate.

Eatonton, Ga., September 21.—(AP) Mrs. K. S. Knowles died shortly after she had taken a "pink" pill which her husband insisted, against her will, that she take, according to testimony brought out here today in the trial of K. S. Knowles, prominent farmer, charged with poisoning his wife, who died Saturday, January 29.

Lula Stubbs, negro practical nurse, said Mrs. Knowles was "getting along fine" until she took the pill. She died a few minutes after taking it, she said. Mary Farley, negro employed in the home, said she heard Mrs. Knowles tell her husband that "I begged you not to give me that pill. Now you've killed me."

Dr. E. F. Griffith, attending physician, said that he had left three accutal pills to be used only in case of pain, with Mrs. Knowles on Friday afternoon, after he had performed an operation. The next time he said he heard from her was when a call came for him to come at once, on Saturday morning. Before he could comply, another message came saying the woman was dead.

Dr. Griffith said he told Sheriff Joe Walton about the case, after talking with the negro nurse several days later. The grand jury ordered a coroner's inquest, and Dr. Griffith and another doctor were ordered to exhumate the body. This was done and the viscera sent to Dr. C. H. Mayrort, of the laboratories of the medical department, University of Georgia, at Augusta, according to the witness. Sufficient poison was found to produce death, the doctor said the report showed.

Points.

When Gene and Jack start scuffling ears tonight somewhere around 9 o'clock, Atlanta time, for the pugilistic championship of the world, and incidentally a few dollars to boot, it is highly probable that all ears will be lent to the radio ringside details which will be received here at practically every place large enough to hold a receiving set and three people.

Details of the fight are being broadcast throughout the country by the National Broadcasting company over a network of stations that is larger than any combine ever used before. WSB will be the local link in the chain which will provide every listener with a ringside story of the struggle.

WSB's program will begin at 7 o'clock tonight with special entertainment from the Biltmore studio of the station by the Duffee-Freeman Furniture company until 8 o'clock when the national broadcast will begin with preliminary announcements and comment by the "mike" artists who will handle the details of the bout, on the state of the weather.

RING GLADIATORS
READY, THEY SAY

Dempsey Seen as Favorite in Betting; Champion Rules Among Most of Sports Writers.

BY ALAN J. GOULD.
Associated Press Sports Editor.

Chicago, September 21.—(AP)—With its last legal barriers cleared today and the city swarming with the greatest fight crowd of all time, the Dempsey-Tunney battle of dollars, open letters and mixed opinions moved toward its climax of actual fistie combat tomorrow night in Soldier field's spectacular setting.

Subjects of more debates than any two other gladiators in all ring history, Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey, will meet in their return battle for the heavyweight championship of the world before a colorful crowd that is expected to shatter all records by numbering close to 150,000, and contributing to a "gate" of probably $2,750,000.

In its attraction of world-wide interest, in the fierce and bitter character of its preliminary debates, in the size of the stakes involved, $1,450,000 for the two fighters, as well as the magnitude of the promotion enterprises, the second chapter of the Dempsey-Tunney battle for outright sports event in history. Scalloped "battles of the century" within the past few years pale by comparison with the proportion of this unprecedented struggle for gold and ring glory.

It will pit Tunney, the soldier, masterful boxer and champion, against Dempsey, the plugging, personally magnetic slugger, badly beaten a year ago by his handsome foe, but now primed for the big act of the most sensational comeback drama the boxing game has ever known.

Who will win?
The answer to that question, eagerly sought and discussed everywhere by millions, debated at the crossroads as well as on Michigan avenue, Broadway and the Rue de la Paix, will be known between 9:30 and 10:30 o'clock tomorrow night. Chicago daylight time, when the 10-round championship match to a decision will hold the little square of limelight amid a cheering mass of fandon.

So far as the strange contrasts of pre-battle speculation go, Dempsey will climb into the ring a probable favorite in the betting as well as with the support of popular sentiment, but Tunney will be the choice of a majority of the assembled army of experts.

Suspicion and Doubt Prevail.
There are powerful undercurrents and crosscurrents of suspicion and doubt, always a part of the prelude of big heavyweight fights, but more pronounced here than ever before. There are sharp conflicts of opinion everywhere but the general trend is set, on its merits, the fight will be closely and sensationally fought between a resourceful champion, fully confident of himself, and a challenger substantially improved over his dismal form of last September.

Tunney's supporters insist that the fighting machine that cut but crushed the slugging Dempsey a year ago in the rain at Philadelphia is equipped to reassert, probably in more decisive fashion, Dempsey's backers see the old Manassa Mauler as once more

NEW LETTER AIDS LILLIENDAHL QUIZ

BY FRANK DOLAN.
(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Atlantic City, September 21.—Detectives investigating the Lilliendahl murder mystery swung out on a new, warm trail that led to Providence, R. I., tonight, and an arrest in the case, they said, may be expected within 48 hours.

Assistant Prosecutor S. Cameron Hinkle, in charge of the case, said tonight that information he received this morning in a letter mailed to Rhode Island convinced him that he is "on the right track." Hinkle refused to elaborate on this item, save to say that, although he is now considering the probability of a man whose name has not yet been mentioned in connection with the murder having shot the aged doctor, he has as yet released no one of those interrogated from suspicion of knowledge of, if not complicity in, the slaying.

The story told by Mrs. Margaret Lilliendahl, 42-year-old widow of the 72-year-old physician, who was with him in their car when he was murdered last Thursday on a lonely road near Hammon, already has been "shot full of holes," Hinkle said.

Lack of Memory.

Mrs. Lilliendahl, who was "de-

$25,000 bail as a material witness, said two negro men robbed and murdered her husband. She cannot remember any identifying characteristics of either of the men. It was this memory lack that first indicated to the police that she might know more than she told.

Contained in the letter which he received from Providence were certain statements which Hinkle believes will be of the utmost importance in clarifying the mystery.

"Up to today we did not consider the possibility of there having been a third person connected with the murder of Dr. Lilliendahl," Hinkle said. "But I now believe that a man whom we expect to pick up shortly can tell us all about it."

Hinkle said the letter was unsigned, but it was learned from a reliable source that the name of the writer is known to the prosecutor. Late this afternoon, Frank Harohi, chief of county detectives, who has been working on the case since the finding of the body and the arrest of Mrs. Lilliendahl, left Vineland for Newark. He said he was going to "check up on some angles that we think may be valuable clues, which were in the letter Hinkle received today."

Paces Floor.

Mrs. Lilliendahl since the funeral of her husband in Brooklyn yesterday has closeted herself in her Vineland home, denying herself to all callers. With her is her eight-year-old son, Alfred, and Miss Gay Sommers, an artist friend, of Waterbury, Conn. The four-day ordeal of questioning told heavily on Mrs. Lilliendahl's nerves, and she spends much of her time weeping and pacing the floor.

Wilets Beach, the wizened, white-haired little poultry breeder who was questioned by state troopers about his friendship for Mrs. Lilliendahl, is finding himself drawn into the investigation.

tion as the troopers and detectives cut back on the life of the widow.

Mrs. William Tanky postmistress at South Vineland, told detectives today that she has seen Beach and Mrs. Lilliendahl together on "dozens of occasions," and that they seemed to be "warm personal friends." This came in the face of Beach's statement last Monday, that he "hardly knows the woman," and his cry of "hell, no," when asked if he had ever taken a walk or a drive with her.

"Mrs. Tanky will be as important in this case as the pig woman was in the Hall-Mills investigation," detectives announced after they had heard other details of the postmistress' story.

To reporters the "Jane Gibson of the Lilliendahl case" reiterated her charges that the mysterious "Peggy Anderson" letters were received by the widow of the slain doctor.

RUTH ELDER PLANS TO BATLE STORMS

New York, September 21.—(AP)—The weather man's sign "detour road closed for storms," on the trans-Atlantic airway today failed to budge Miss Ruth Elder in her determination to reach Paris in her monoplane American Girl.

Miss Elder and her copilot, George Haldeman, delayed in a final instrument check yesterday, today moved to give the plane a last scrutiny in preparation for a take-off Friday. They may start at daylight rather than in early morning, and have under consideration three routes to Paris, ranging between 3,600 and 3,810 miles.

Meanwhile, Francis W. Grayson, of New York, continued her preparations to fly to Europe in a huge Sikorsky amphibian plane powered by two Wright whirling motors. The plane has lifted a load of 11,000 pounds in test flights.

Grayson's plane will be manned by Wilmer Stultz, a navy pilot, and Brice Goldborough, an employee of the company supplying navigational instruments.

Dr. James H. Kimball, meteorologist and unofficial flight starter, warned that storms hung over the mid-Atlantic and that increasingly frequent storms would, in his opinion, make a further trans-Atlantic flight impossible until next spring.

Army Engineers Tackle Largest Task Since War

BY ALFRED P. RECK.
(United News.)—Harnessed the Mississippi river, ordinarily muddy and peaceful, but powerful and dangerous in time of flood, is proving to be the greatest task the army engineers have tackled since the world war.

Practically every person, military and civilian, under the command of Major General Edgar Jadwin, chief of army engineers, is engaged in some form or other in collecting data on flood control. More than 150 engineers, combined with a field and clerical force of approximately 2,000, have been working on the task since early summer. They will not be ready with a definite program until November 15.

Consequently, a special session of congress will not be called, it was announced at the white house. With the engineers' proposals unavailable until the middle of November, flood control legislation could not reach the senate until after the Christmas holidays. By that time, the senate will probably have cleaned up its internal business and will be ready to devote full attention to the major problem.

Legislation Enacted.

However, after the necessary legislation is enacted and the initial appropriation made, the real work of confining the Mississippi within its legitimate boundaries will begin. A ten-year program is indicated, involving expenditure of between $300,000,000 and $500,000,000.

The definite flood control program to be proposed to congress will not be known until engineers have completed their study of all phases of the problem.

Previously opposed to spillways in any form, the army engineers are understood to be converted to the idea that safety valves will be necessary to control the river. It is believed their program will call for higher and stronger levees and a system of spillways through which the Mississippi can pour after reaching a certain level.

To Convert Crevasse.

It is possible that the crevasse, blown in the levee at Poydras, south of New Orleans, to save that city from danger during the last flood will be converted into a permanent spillway. The efficiency of spillways was forcefully impressed upon engineers and those previously opposed to this system of flood control in the creation of the Poydras crevasse.

Members of the Mississippi river commission, known as "levee men," recommended and General Jadwin approved, the creation of the spillway at Poydras as a last resort to prevent New Orleans from being flooded. The success of the dynamited crevasse convinced even the most skeptical. Hundreds of thousands of gallons of water poured through the opening every second, relieving pressure on the levee and from 24 hours after the spillway was created until the end of the flood, New Orleans was not in danger. The water level dropped steadily and the worst threat of the Mississippi was vanished.

Witnessed Effect.

General Jadwin personally witnessed the opening of the spillway and its effect on the water level. This demonstration is believed to have convinced him of the soundness of the overflow system.

Levees, reinforced with concrete, will probably replace the old dirt levees along the danger point, in the lower Mississippi banks.

Secretary Hoover, chairman of the special flood relief committee appointed by President Coolidge, stated it would be necessary to continue the state emergency finance corporations in 1928 because of the second flood which drowned out much of the replanted area necessitating further financial aid for farmers.

The emergency corporations loaned less than $800,000, Hoover said, but their action gave small banks confidence to finance local industries and keep farming and other necessary operations going.

JUDGE SHROPSHIRE PASSES NEAR ROME

Rome, Ga., September 21.—(Special.)—John W. Shropshire, prominent citizen of Chattahoochee county, died Tuesday afternoon at his residence in Haywood valley after a long illness.

Mr. Shropshire was 50 years of age and had resided in Chattahoochee county 50 years. He had been justice of peace 40 years.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at his residence in Haywood valley. The Rev. Willie Conn conducted the services. Interment was in the family cemetery there. Six grandsons acted as pallbearers.

Mercury Level To Show Slight Drop Thursday

A renewal of the bright and exhilarating fall weather has been promised for today.

The temperature extremes on Wednesday ranged comfortably between 53 and 76, the lowest, since last spring, while today's are expected to find a level in a return to normal. E. von Hermann, meteorologist, said Wednesday.

Every vestige of smoke or haze vanished Wednesday before a gale of 30-mile velocity, and some of the most brilliant sunlight of the year streamed on Atlanta from a flawless sky.

Light winds will hold today, Mr. von Hermann believes, and will forestall any possibility of rainfall over the state at large.

Just at this time the entire cotton belt is enjoying bright and sunny weather.

BEN HILL FAIR COMES TO COSE WITH MINSTREL

A minstrel and a cow and hog and band calling contest were principal entertaining features of a community fair held Wednesday in the Masonic hall at Ben Hill, under the auspices of the Ben Hill home demonstration club. Miss Lucy Wood, home demonstration agent of Fulton county, was in charge of the fair and was assisted by Miss Lucile Turner, district agent of Fulton county.

Jim Oliver, prominent planter of Ben Hill, won the cow and hog calling contest, while Mrs. Howard Jackson proved beyond doubt to the judges that she is the best husband caller in that section of the country.

Jere A. Wells, Fulton county school superintendent; Sam Adams, a member of the board of school directors; and R. L. Ramsey, assistant Fulton county school superintendent, were judges of the contests.

BANDIT ABANDONS CAR AFTER HOLDUP OF GAS STATION

T. A. Merrill, manager of a local oil station at Spring street and West Peachtree place, was held up Saturday night shortly after 8 o'clock and robbed of between $50 and $75 by a lone white bandit, police were told.

Merrill told the officers that a man drove up to his place and ordered a can of grease and as he turned to fill the order, he was commanded to keep still and hold his hands up, while the bandit robbed the cash register.

Immediately after the robbery the bandit, in attempting to escape, drove the roadster, in which he was riding, into the rear of another automobile and abandoned it.

A few minutes later Harry Cannon, of 124 East Eleventh street, was riding along Spring street, saw the abandoned car and recognized it as his own, which had been stolen a few minutes before from in front of his home, he told police. Cannon was drilled at length by police but after he proved conclusively that the car belonged to him, he was allowed to return home with his car.

MANNER OLD GLORY MET FATE LIKELY TO STAY MYSTERY

New York, September 21.—(AP)—The New York Daily Mirror says today that the wreckage of the trans-Atlantic monoplane Old Glory, recovered at sea, is in such condition that probably the reason for its crash never will be known.

MANY EXHIBITS SET FOR FAIR AT ROME

Rome, Ga., September 21.—(Special.)—With the circus definitely out of the way the next thing that is on the calendar of events is Rome's annual Floyd county fair and homecoming, which will open on Tuesday, October 4, and run through October 8, five full days of fun and entertainment.

Reports from the boys' club department and the woman's department indicate that the exhibits are to be larger this year than before, while those from the agricultural display indicate that the wealth of Floyd county fields is to be shown abundantly in fair exhibits.

The Heth Carnival company will play at the fair this year.

CHILD, 4, BITTEN BY DOG, TREATED

Okie Yenible, 4, of 4 Pasley avenue, East Atlanta, was treated Wednesday at Grady hospital for dog bites on the head and arm. Anti-rabies serum was advised by physicians at the hospital, and the child's parents were told to take him to the state health department for the treatment.

Are You Thin, Weak, Nervous, Run Down?

To have plenty of firm flesh and strong muscles, "pep" and ambition, and the ability to do a big day's work and feel "like a two-year-old" at night, you must eat three good meals a day, relish your food and properly digest it. If you can't eat, can't digest, can't work, just take a teaspoonful of Tanlac before meals.

Mrs. G. E. Smith, of 215 Washington Ave., Macon, Ga., was all run down, suffered from dreadful headaches, poor digestion and dizzy spells. But I've rapidly improved since the very first dose of Tanlac and now my work and my home duties seem much easier.

Tanlac is wonderful for indigestion and constipation—gas, pains, nausea, dizziness and headaches. It brings back lost appetite, helps you digest your food, and gain strength and weight. It contains no mineral drugs; it is made of roots, barks and herbs, nature's own medicines for the sick. The cost is less than 2 cents a dose. Get a bottle from your druggist and give it a thorough trial. Your money back if it doesn't help you.

Judge Luke Raps Jurists Who Deride "Weak Laws"

LAY REVIVALIST CALLS FIGHT ON SIN

Sharp criticism of jurists who advise citizens of the country to disregard and even defy "bad laws" of the nation, featured an address Wednesday night of Judge Roscoe Luke, of the Georgia court of appeals, who at the time issued a stern warning to a large audience that the demands of sin continue to grow until at last the victim is ground in the depths of degradation and despair.

Judge Luke speaks at the St. Luke Methodist church at 10:30 o'clock in the morning and at 7:30 o'clock each night, in a series of revival services, which will end Sunday night.

Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock a mammoth mass meeting will be held at the city auditorium, at which time Judge Luke will tell of his conversion about four years ago. All Atlanta has been invited to attend the meeting Sunday afternoon. Special music will be furnished by Charles Butler, noted evangelist soloist, and his daughter, Miss Lillian Butler. His attack on the disregard for laws was based on press dispatches from Iowa, to the effect that Floyd T. Thompson, justice of the Illinois supreme court, advised his hearers to "get upon their hind legs and howl."

Judge Dunaway says in locations point to at least twice a many entries in all departments as last year, and that the poultry and live stock departments will be greatly enlarged. The Krause theater show will furnish attractions.

CAMDEN GIVES FUND FOR BRIDGE OPENING

Waycross, Ga., September 21.—(Special.)—A fund of $250 has been appropriated by the commissioners of Camden county to help defray the expenses of the celebration of the opening of the Satilla river bridge on the Coastal highway. The celebration is to be held during October. The official representatives of Camden county will be Dr. A. K. Swift, R. E. Price and N. H. Lang.

SLANDER IS DENIED IN POISON CHARGE

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Trenton, N. J., September 21.—After 40 minutes' deliberation, the jury which today heard testimony in the $50,000 suit for damages brought by Mrs. Margaret Harris McClure, of Philadelphia, against Dr. Frank J. Moore, of Camden, charging slander, returned a verdict clearing the physician. The jury found "no cause for action," and Judge Boline dismissed the suit.

The defendant reiterated from the witness stand that he believed the well-known publisher, Thompson H. McClure, was slowly poisoned. He was 72 when he died, six months after his discharge from the West Jersey Homeopathic hospital, Camden.

Mrs. McClure charged that Dr. Moore told her husband she was poisoning him and that as a result she was cut off in his will, save for her dower rights. She is suing to break the will.

Dr. Moore testified that from April, 1922, on, he was suspicious of poisoning because of the patient's failure to respond to treatment and because of his actions. He had detectives remove the sick man from the McClure's home in Woodlawn, to the hospital because of his suspicion and ordered barred Mrs. McClure from his bedside except for 10-minute periods.

The drug he believed was being administered, Dr. Moore testified, was hyoscyne, which is used to "quiet insane persons, but which has the opposite effect when given to the sane. Dr. Moore said McClure frequently raved, tore his hair and insisted he was on fire.

Dr. Moore said he did not know at any time who was administering the poison because, besides Mrs. McClure, there were nurses, servants and a 17-year-old daughter of the plaintiff, Catherine, by a former marriage, in the publisher's home.

The Life and Letters of Woodrow Wilson

By RAY STANNARD BAKER, Official Biographer

The real Wilson revealed at last in the most remarkable biography published in our generation.

Every Georgian will want to read this authorized and authentic life of this great President—to know more intimately the aloof man who guided our nation through the most critical period of the world's history.

Ever since the death of Woodrow Wilson, the world has waited with the keenest expectation for this great work. At last, this greatest biography of our generation is to be published.

It will create throughout the world such a sensation as no other biography has ever created. To publish this work is a rare privilege; to present it EXCLUSIVELY for our readers is a triumph of publishing enterprise, of which THE GEORGIAN is justly proud.

This remarkable feature begins September 25th exclusively in

THE GEORGIAN and THE SUNDAY AMERICAN

For three years Ray Stannard Baker, chosen by Mrs. Wilson to write the life of her famous husband, has worked over more than 200,000 letters and other manuscripts; even the most private files of the President and his friends were thrown open to him! The result is an amazing revelation of the statesman so widely known, of the man so little known. As a biography, it will fascinate by its intimate details; as a history, opening as it does hitherto unwritten chapters of secret diplomacy and the Peace Conference, it will rank as the most enlightening of all records of this nation's part in the World War.

Every Georgian will be interested in reading of Woodrow Wilson's residence in Georgia, and his own statement of why he chose Atlanta as the city in which to begin the practice of law!

His life during this period, as revealed in confidential papers and personal letters, casts new and vivid light upon the Atlanta and Georgia of the eighties. Famous men and women of the South, long since gone to their reward, live again in all the glory of their prime, preserved by the scholarly pen of Woodrow Wilson. VALUABLE NOW—more VALUABLE LATER, in the files of your library, for future generations.

Civilization's Touch Brings Slow Death to Eskimos

BY ALFRED P. RECK,
United News Staff Correspondent.
Washington, September 21.—Lo, the poor Eskimo is meeting the same fate as his aboriginal brother, the poor Indian. He is becoming a victim of jazz, canned milk, civilization and an increasing death rate.

The sturdy voyager from Asia, who conquered the frozen north long before white men knew there was a frozen north, is tending toward extinction, T. Dale Stewart, of the Smithsonian Institution, declared today upon his return from a summer's exploration on Nunivak island, off the Alaskan coast.

White men have made but slight forays on Nunivak island, where he found one of the few remaining colonies of full-blooded Eskimos. But even the brief touch of civilization has left its tell-tale marks in the lives, customs, clothing, habits and ceremonies of the natives, Stewart found.

Dying.
The bleak, treeless island, ice-sealed from the rest of the world most of the year, is experiencing the touch of progress, enjoying it and dying, the explorer discovered.

Even on Nunivak, regarded as one of the last strongholds of Eskimo life, traces of native arts and customs are disappearing.

Stewart found totem poles displayed, which were made in Japan, the men discarding their picturesque fur garments and wearing shirts and trousers, phonographs in the native huts and even two radios on the island.

American canned goods are replacing the old native food of fish, birds' eggs, fried seaweed and seal blubber. "It's getting so that a native Nunivak woman won't think of bringing up her babies without the aid of American canned milk," Stewart said.

Cloth Clothing.
"A Nunivak belle, to be in style, must wear a cloth dress, shaped something like the old Mother Hubbards, over her fur garments. All the young bloods are smoking cigarettes, but they roll their own. A can of face powder is the finest gift you can give to a native woman."

If Stomach is Sour

Hereafter instead of soda take a little "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

Better Than Soda
For fifty years genuine "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

DERANGED MARINE HELD IN MURDER

Owensboro, Ky., September 21.—(P)—James Johnson, 45, former United States marine, mentally deranged over fancied wrongs he has suffered, was charged today with the murder of Judge J. L. Patton, 62, county judge of Ohio county, who died last night from pistol bullet wounds inflicted by the former service man.

Judge Patton was shot during a session of the Ohio county fiscal court at Hartford, Ky., yesterday afternoon where Johnson appeared to seek payment of a pension which he drew from the government.

For several years Johnson has been an inmate of the National Soldiers' home at Dayton, Ohio. A year ago, because of his mental condition, L. B. Tichenor was appointed to represent him in his financial dealings with the government. Johnson recently obtained leave of absence from the home and appeared before Circuit Judge George S. Wilson to obtain his pension, which had been paid to Tichenor.

On advice of attorneys, Tichenor had not paid Johnson the money. Johnson entered the courtroom where ten men were present. He approached Judge Patton and asked if Tichenor is ready to make a settlement with me.

"I think the matter can be arranged," Judge Patton replied.

"Well I'm getting tired of this deal," Johnson shouted and drew a pistol. He fired a shot at Tichenor but the bullet went wild. Judge Patton jumped up from a table where he had been seated and ran for a door. As he fled, Johnson fired wildly around the courtroom and the jurist was wounded twice in the back and another bullet went through his arm. Johnson was overpowered by County Attorney Otto Martin and Clarence Martin, a magistrate, as he reloaded his pistol.

Judge Patton was rushed to a hospital at Owensboro, where an operation was performed. He grew weaker, however, and died shortly before midnight.

Johnson was held in the Owensboro jail, Ralph Rogers, assistant adjutant at the Dayton home, said that he has been subject to "queer" spells for some time. Records at the institution showed that he had served in the Spanish-American war and that he had been in the service of the United States navy subsequently.

MURDER CHARGED MARION, ARKANSAS, SPECIAL AGENTS

Marion, Ark., September 21.—(P)—Chester Frick and Leo Brownlow, special agents for the Missouri Pacific railroad, were indicted by the Crittenden county grand jury today for murder in the first degree in connection with the killing last June of Prentiss Hoop, 35, of Searcy, Miss. They probably will be arraigned next week.

Hoop and his brother, L. W. Hoop, were on a freight train beating their way to the wheat fields. It was said they boarded the train in Memphis and were ordered off when the train reached the Arkansas side of the Mississippi river.

J. P. Carter, night watchman at the Old Harahan race track, an eyewitness to the killing, told Marion officials, the latter said, that he heard the agents order the boys off the train and curse them. The boys, he said, alighted and were running down the tracks when two shots were fired, one of which struck Prentiss in the back and killed him instantly.

CHINESE TRYING TO DISARM TROOPS FIGHT 3 BATTLES

Shanghai, China, September 21.—(P)—The disarming of troops whose loyalty is doubted by the national military council has resulted in three engagements along the Shanghai-Hangchow and Shanghai-Nanking railway, resulting in more than 300 casualties.

The first army corps, under General Ho Ying-ching, tore up the railway at Hsien-chwang and dispersed a trainload of 1,500 men coming from Hangchow and belonging to the 31st army corps. Further fighting occurred during the disarming of 5,000 additional men and hundreds of wounded were brought into the hospitals in the native city of Shanghai this morning.

CARNIVAL STAGED AT EDITORS' MEET IN MISSISSIPPI

Clarksdale, Miss., September 21.—(P)—After "talking shop" during the daylight hours on the first day of the sixty-second annual convention of the Mississippi Press association, editors and publishers tonight were guests of Clarksdale.

The delegates were dinner guests tonight of the Clarksdale and Coahoma County Chamber of Commerce. A Mardi Gras carnival and street dance climaxed the night's program. Features of the first day's meeting were the address of welcome of Gerald Fitzgerald, of Clarksdale, and the annual address of James H. Skewes, Meridian publisher and president of the Mississippi Press association.

LAVONIA TELEPHONE PLANT HIT BY FIRE

Lavonia, Ga., September 21.—(Special).—The Lavonia telephone exchange located on the second floor of the Vickery building was badly damaged by fire last night. The origin of the fire has not been determined. Much of the stock and fixtures of W. A. Bullard's cafe and grocery located on the first floor was moved, although the goods were badly damaged.

Both the building and exchange carried some insurance, it is said. A new telephone exchange will be installed at once, it is stated.

LEVINE POSTPONES FLIGHT TO ORIENT

Cranwell Aldrome, England, September 21.—(P)—Charles A. Levine tonight decided not to hop off at dawn tomorrow on his proposed flight toward India and points east in his plane Columbia. Rain was falling and a southwest wind was blowing. After receiving unfavorable weather reports from the continent Levine decided not to fly Thursday.

Road Bids Taken.
Tallahassee, Fla., September 21.—(P)—The state road department still was busy late today tabulating the bids received yesterday for contracts for road and bridge construction in seven counties and an announcement regarding the probable low bidders was made.

NEGRO BELIEVED HIRED TO KILL ALABAMA WOMAN

Jasper, Ala., September 21.—(P)—Following announcement in Montgomery last night that Attorney General Charlie C. McCall had been investigating the slaying at Dora last week of Mary Trecce, 47, Walker county officials redoubled their efforts to find the assassin who "itally injured the woman by beating her with a rock and then set fire to her clothing."

Attorney General McCall said last night that he believed a negro had been hired to kill the woman. Officials here have been working on the theory that an assassin other than the negro committed the crime.

Mr. Trecce, however, has failed to throw any light on the slaying. Lee Trecce, the woman's husband; Dick Trecce, the latter's son; Jim Tinker, his son-in-law; and Skinner Green, a brother-in-law of Tinker, still were being held in the Jefferson county jail at Birmingham in connection with the slaying.

Mrs. David Trecce, Mrs. Jim Tinker and Mrs. Skinner Green, held here several days for questioning, were released yesterday.

The elder Trecce told officers he found his wife near her home with her head beaten and her clothes partially buried from her body. Before she died Trecce told officers she told him that a negro attacked her and set fire to her clothes.

LEAGUE WEAVING PEACE FOR WORLD

Geneva, Switzerland, September 21.—(P)—The weaving of the peace fabric at Geneva advanced swiftly today, bringing out in sharp relief the colors of arbitration and security as vitally essential to the safety of the world which disarmament constitutes the third necessary element.

Unanimous approval was given by the disarmament committee, the most important organ of the League of Nations assembly, to a project introduced in its original form by the French delegation whereby the League of Nations preparatory disarmament commission, while arranging for a general conference on limitation and reduction of armaments, will continue its activities simultaneously on extension of arbitration agreements and a graduated system of security among the nations.

A comprehensive resolution, which is considered certain to be approved by the assembly, was adopted today, requesting the council of the League of Nations to urge the preparatory commission, on which the United States is represented, to hasten completion of its technical work, thus enabling the council to convene a conference for the limitation and reduction of armaments at the earliest possible date.

While the United States is expected actively to continue its cooperation with the disarmament commission, the Washington government is not expected to assume membership on another special commission which the resolution envisages.

That this struggle has a vital current was indicated from another standpoint by the judicial committee assembled and approved the project of Dr. Fridtjof for the elaboration of every possible dispute arising between states. This is a proposal providing for the settlement of disputes by arbitral boards when the league council or the world court of justice has failed to dispose of them.

USE OF MAHOGANY AS TRADE NAME CARRIED TO COURT

Washington, September 21.—(P)—Six furniture manufacturers who recently were ordered by the federal trade commission to cease advertising as mahogany certain Philippine woods not only refused to do so but also to test the commission's ruling in the circuit court of appeals of the second circuit.

The commission said today that it had agreed for the Indiana Quartermaster company, of Long Island City, N. Y., to make a test case that would apply to the other five manufacturers, the Thomas A. Jones Lumber company, of St. Louis, the Jones Hardwood company, the Kirschman Hardwood company, and the Robert Dollar company, all of St. Francis, Mo., and the Hammond Lumber company, of Los Angeles.

The stipulation also provides that either the company or the commission may apply to the supreme court for review of the decision of the circuit court of appeals.

HOW TO GET RID OF CATARRH

A Simple, Safe, Inexpensive Method That Clears Out the Head, Nose and Throat.

There is no disease more offensive or disagreeable, or no disease that will lead to as much serious trouble as catarrh. You can now get rid of it by a simple, safe, pleasant home remedy discovered by Dr. Blosser, a currier specialist.

Dr. Blosser's Remedy is composed of medicinal herbs, flowers and vines which you smoke in a small pipe or cigarette. The warm smoke vapor is inhaled into the air passages of the head, nose, throat and lungs and carries medicine where sprays, douches and salves cannot possibly reach. Its effect is soothing and healing and is entirely harmless. It contains no cubes or tobacco, and may be used by children as well as adults.

If you suffer from any catarrhal trouble, catarrhal deafness, asthma, hay fever, bronchial irritations, or are subject to frequent colds, get from Dr. Blosser's Cigarettes, and prove for yourself their pleasant, beneficial effects.—(adv.)

ABSOLUTE SATISFACTION OR YOUR MONEY BACK

Mei Ling Soong To Wed Former Chinese War Lord

Shanghai, September 21.—The coming marriage of Marshal Chiang Kai-shek, former generalissimo of the nationalist armies, and Mei Ling Soong, daughter of the former nationalist foreign minister, was confirmed by Miss Soong tonight when she entertained at dinner intimate Chinese and foreign feminine friends. The affair resembled a western girl's announcement party, although Miss Soong stated the dinner was not an announcement, as she wished to maintain the marriage in retirement, due to the opposition of the Soong family.

"I love the great general," she stated, declaring that she is proceeding with the marriage regardless of her family's opposition, although she hopes to win their approval.

She revealed that Marshal Chiang is remaining in retirement at Ningpo, but is planning to come to Shanghai next week, whereupon both will proceed to Japan on separate ships. The Soong family is spending the summer in Japan. They plan to be married in Japan, later proceeding on a lengthy world tour, possibly lasting five years.

Fire Loss $100,000.

The first fall meeting of Atlanta lodge No. 78, B. P. O. Elks, will be held at the old Salvation Army building, 105 1-2 Luckie street, N. W., this evening at 8 o'clock and many Important matters will be handled at that time.

Hon. E. Foster Brigham, of Augusta, president of the Georgia Elks association, will pay an official visit to the Georgia Elks lodge here. He will advise the members of the work that the Georgia Elks association is doing throughout the state. This association recently sponsored the road before the Georgia legislature to secure an adequate appropriation for the feeble-minded children's home at Gracewood, near Augusta, and succeeded in securing the appropriation for this institution. Much other work of a similar nature is planned, and Mr. Brigham will inform the members fully of the important matters in which the association has in contemplation.

At this meeting there will also be an initiation of ritualistic nature, the short form being used and a number of prominent Atlantans will receive the degree of Elk.

Secretary B. C. Broyles states that with the coming of the fall season Atlanta Lodge No. 78 will resume its activities and during the winter many pleasant events are contemplated and a number of innovations in reference to the wives and families of Elks at the new clubhouse at 736 Peachtree street, N. E., will be put in effect and a busy fall program has been arranged, which will give the members and their families something to do most every day during the coming winter.

A report on the examination of the viscera of James and Amos Hayes, of Blakely, Ga., was mailed to the sheriff at that place late Wednesday afternoon. Dr. Edgar Everhart, state chemist, announced Wednesday. Details of the examination will have to come from the sheriff, who will be in receipt of the report some time today, the doctor said.

Dr. Everhart has been occupied with the examination since Sunday at which time the viscera was brought here by Dr. A. J. Ayers, local pathologist.

Huntington, W. Va., September 21. (United news.)—Because his heart is on the right side instead of the left, William Gray is alive after an attempt at suicide following a lover's quarrel.

Physicians at first believed a bullet had pierced Gray's heart but examination disclosed that the organ was on the right side. The bullet passed through his left lung. He may recover.

19 CHILDREN, NUN BURNED TO DEATH

Winnipeg, Man., September 21.—(United News.)—In the frozen, desolate wastes of the far north, at the Little Roman Catholic mission of Lac La Plonge, 100 miles north of Big River, Sask., 19 Indian children and a nun perished in a fire which destroyed the mission.

News of the tragedy, which occurred Monday night, was transmitted to Big River today by a courier aboard the mission's lone gasoline launch, which for two days and two nights had plowed its way down country to civilization.

Officials were asked to send food and clothing to the starving, freezing children in that bleak country north of "54."

Because of the mission's inaccessibility and the dire necessity of reaching some 50 survivors, including 70 little children, seven gray nuns, eight brothers and three oblate fathers—all in charge of the Rev. Father La Janssens—on an airplane of the Canadian air force left today with medical supplies.

Sister Lea, one of the teachers, was the nun who died in the flames.

Headquarters of the Royal Canadian air force at Winnipeg had not received word of the tragedy late today.

It was said here that Dr. Amyott, who had been at Lac la Plonge, another mission post in the northernmost regions of Saskatchewan, was en route by airplane to Lac la Plonge.

He had gone to Lac la Plonge for the opening of a new gray nun hospital.

Officials of the air force said two planes were operating in northern Saskatchewan at the summer station at Big River, 60 miles northwest of Prince Albert.

One of the planes has a capacity of three persons while the other could accommodate seven. It was assumed that the machine reported en route to the Lac la Plonge mission was one of these two.

Meager reports from Big River indicated the gray nuns and priests had been heroic in their efforts to rescue their pupils.

The fire was reported to have started at midnight Monday in the boys' dormitory, where the deaths are said to have occurred. In addition to the nun who perished, a priest was badly burned and may die. Both had been hurt in valiant attempts to rescue the Indian boys of the far north.

The early messages indicated it was this heroic mission which brought about rescue of some 70 children who were trapped.

Winnipeg officers of the royal air force believed the seaplanes at Big River were sent to the scene of the reported disaster without delay. It was pointed out they could accommodate a doctor, nurses and supplies.

The Big River station is the headquarters for a forest fire patrol area of from 600 to 1,000 miles.

GEN. PERSHING LEADS VETERANS TO ARGONNE

Meeting Full of Color.

The legion convention's open meeting, which furnishes plenty of color, was not lacking in that element today when a short but snappy air fight occurred. The skirmish raged over a resolution recommending organization of an aviation department in the American government. The fight led by General Mitchell resulted in defeat for the former assistant aviation chief.

Mitchell insisted that the words "as soon as warranted" be removed from the resolution and led a demand for immediate establishment by the government of a separate aviation department.

The committee had reported in favor of a recommendation that such department be organized "as soon as warranted." Mitchell, speaking from his delegate's seat, shouted "as soon as warranted? Why? It's wanted now!"

He proceeded to argue that the recommendation should not be qualified.

Fight on Air Cruise.

The delegates demanded that he ascend the tribune and, speaking from the rostrum, he went over the entire situation, saw the speaking of great vehemence, he declared that the words "as soon as warranted" should be eliminated.

National Commander McGovern, of Wisconsin, reminded the convention that the war department is opposed at present to the establishment of a separate aviation department, and urged that the disputed words be retained in the resolution.

The fight hinged about the last paragraph of the committee's report.

"We, the standing committee of national defense of the American Legion, favor organization of national aeronautics as soon as warranted into a separate department of the national defense headed by a cabinet secretary."

Remarks Stricken.

General Mitchell moved that the words "as soon as warranted" be stricken out.

National Commander Savage assured the delegates that the committee which framed the resolution was chosen from the most competent members and suggested that their advice could be followed.

On motion of Legionnaire Gilligan, of Ohio, General Mitchell's remarks were stricken from the record.

The convention then tried to decide the question of retention of the words without balloting. Failing a roll call, they voted in a ballot which was favorable to the former aviation assistant chief retained in the resolution.

The vote was 622 to 290.

There are many more in his aviation plan in the convention hall.

General Mitchell journeyed to the French military field where, with more than 2,000 of the legionnaires, he saw some stunt flying by such experts as Marcel Doret, "the king of aerial acrobatics, the French ace, and Maurice Frouin, called "the world's champion acrobatic flier."

Mitchell, in the uniform of a brigadier general, received a warm welcome from the legionnaires. Shouts of "We want Billy Mitchell" came after General Roy Hoffman had addressed the legionnaires, saying: "The present pilgrimage of the legion is sure to bind our two peoples closer together."

Climbing to the top of an airplane, General Mitchell addressed the crowd. "We Americans," he said, "have seen here the greatest aviation field in the world and watched pursuit planes flying over 200 miles an hour and bombing planes that could carry a load of passengers from New York to San Francisco in 22 hours. We must further aviation at home where conditions are ideal."

The "Socite 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux" gathered tonight at the Arc de Triomphe where a bronze wreath was laid on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier while a crowd of French legionnaires gathered to watch the official titles such as chef de chemin de fer, chef de gare, and others. Joseph Brechot, Philadelphia clubman, organized the society, and Charles A. Mills, of Florida, president grand chef de chemin de fer. Father E. J. Grace, of Walla Walla, Ore., national amonster, and Frank W. Rice, chef de gare, of Chicago, were masters of ceremony.

Bricks for Tickets.

With bricks at 10 francs each as admission tickets a gala night was held tonight at the Palais du Trocadero and provided a healthy addition to the building fund of the Paris post of the legion. An attendance of 10,000 was estimated.

At the post, the legionnaires heard Monahan post, Sioux City, Iowa, legion band, and the champion drum corps from Miami, Fla. The musicians were encircled so often they asked for a second round.

Miss Madeline Keltie, American prima donna, sang the French and American national anthems.

The music and song were entertaining some of the legionnaires, others in deep secrecy were holding caucuses and electing officers. The legion's politicians were busy championing the cause of their respective candidates for the only night—when the legion received a national political convention.

One of the troubles of the legionnaire is his difficulty with restaurants. Some are so helpless they eat three meals a day with the Salvation Army, coffee and doughnuts for breakfast, coffee and sandwiches for lunch, and coffee and sandwiches for dinner. Unable to speak the language they are too diffident about trying small restaurants where they could dine well at reasonable cost and their pocketbooks are empty.

The Salvation Army is serving 15,000 cups of coffee, 4,000 doughnuts, and 3,000 sandwiches each day, using 400 large loaves bread daily.

Scenes of Slaughter.

Under a brilliant autumn sun and a sky of limpid blue, the legionnaires revisited scenes of wartime slaughter and placed flowers beside many of the French and American dead.

At a great assembly, built largely with American money as a memorial to 400,000 Frenchmen who in 1914 gave their lives defending Verdun, French orators reminded the legionnaires that the great effort the French made in successfully saving Verdun then was completed by the American two years later when three of Pershing's army corps—the third, fifth and first—assisted by the French, cleared the whole sector of the enemy in the great drive that soon led to the armistice.

Premier Poincare, with the exactitude for details for which he is famous, reviewed the whole story of the American effort in the Saint Mihiel and Argonne offensives, citing names of divisions and dates, which drew rousing cheers from his listeners. "We want Billy Mitchell," came after General Roy Hoffman had addressed the legionnaires, saying: "The present pilgrimage of the legion is sure to bind our two peoples closer together."

DEFICIT MAY CUT VIADUCT LINK BRIDGE

appraised the property at approximately $250,000, allowing for contingencies, while the real estate men hit an average of approximately $500,000 for the same tracts.

It was pointed out that even if the city could purchase the property in question for the tax assessors' appraisal price, there still would be a deficit of more than $48,000 of the available money and the cost of the projects, which has been estimated at $1,250,000.

Thus was shown that the city would be called upon to retire a deficit of more than $48,000. If estimates of the engineers are correct, or if property is bought at the valuation of the tax assessors, this fund would come from current revenue or the city would be forced to raise it through some other medium.

The appropriation of the power company has agreed to make would assure construction of the bridges without any deficit and prevent the location of any funds from the other revenue of the city, members of council said.

Mayor Pro Tem W. Guy Dobbie, now acting mayor, Henry York and others contended that the city "must have the power company contribution to assure erection of the projects without jeopardizing the fulfillment of the bridges by eliminating vital portions of the improvements."

Estimated costs on the check remained at $1,250,000, as follows: Construction costs $1,250,000; property to be acquired (tax assessors' appraisal without the 100 per cent increase, which an appraisal board has placed on it) $250,000, and replacement of buildings $350,000. Total, $1,850,000.

Actual Receipts.

Actual receipts were listed as follows after the check:

Bond funds, $970,244.71; railroads, $320,000; city funds, $380,000. Total, $1,670,244.71. A deficit of more than $48,000 is thus shown in these figures and the $250,000 excess which the appraisal board estimated property thus pushed the total estimated deficit to $238,755.29.

Hope was expressed that the contract price will be less than $1,250,000, which has been estimated, and that the deficit thus would be absorbed in this manner, and the necessity of accepting the $400,000 donation of the power company on condition of jetties and buses be barred from Atlanta streets in competition with the company thus obliterated.

Mr. Smith, in connection with a view of advertising for bids for depression of the railroad tracks just as soon as detailed drawings are received. They are expected to arrive here the latter part of this week or the first part of next.

Preparations to let the Pryor street viaduct after this week, as far as possible, also were outlined at the meeting, with a view to pushing the improvements to as rapid completion as possible.

Will PH In.

In case the fight does not begin promptly at 9 o'clock, Herman Thibault, who is headlining at that theater this week, will start his "laugh factory" outfit to running and provide entertainment until the fight details come on the air.

Managements of the Capitol theater, the Howard, Metropolitan and the Georgia Southern community theaters have announced that preparations have been made at those theaters to keep the audiences informed as to the progress of the fight.

The Georgia Power company is offering a most unusual broadcast of the fight. In cooperation with the Gray-Grebe company, distributors of Western Electric products, the power company has arranged to broadcast the fight with sufficient power to make it possible for every one in town to hear it.

A Western Electric public speaking amplifier of the very latest type, equipped with a battery of four 15-watt horns will be installed on the second floor of the company's new building at 84 Walton street. Fight fans are urged to park in around the building for this free broadcast.

Open house will be maintained at all the power company's community theaters as well as at the downtown office building. The stores are located as follows: 1162 Euclid avenue; 979 Peachtree street; 821 Gordon street; 142 Sycamore street, and 3053 Peachtree street.

Lyon and King, Atlanta's oldest exclusive radio dealers, will broadcast the fight from their store at 10 1/2 Broadway avenue. They will also offer a portable broadcast receiver on the downtown streets.

Speakers Installed.

The Cooper Tire and Battery company, southeastern distributors of Grebe synchronophase 5 and 7-tube receiving sets, have installed a number of loud speakers at their service station at 243 Spruce street, and are inviting the public to be present for the fight returns.

The Cooper Tire and Battery company, in cooperation with their retailers, Lyon and King, have installed a 7-tube Grebe on the stage at the Capitol theater to bring in the fight returns for the show patron tonight.

Cochran Radio shop will operate an 8-tube Feda radio in their store at 9 Auburn avenue, where fight fans are urged to congregate for the evening.

Regardless of the winner, a thrilling time is anticipated by many Atlantans who will visit the Peachtree Arcade tonight to listen in on the radio reports of the fight. A seven-tube electric Stromberg-Carlson radio has been received by Fulton Brothers for distribution throughout the lobby, which will enable everyone in the lobby to hear distinctly.

Large Booth Receiver.

The Atlanta Radio company, 512 Peachtree street, has installed a large Boeck receiver and has made arrangements to accommodate large crowds.

Manager Paul Barcroft, of the Florheim Sporting club, 77-A Peachtree street, has announced that his store will not be closed until after the fight tonight, but at the closing hour will be turned over to the Florheim Sporting club to receive details of the fight. Cool weather and a battery of electric fans installed to prevent the odor of smoke from cigars and cigarettes will assure perfect comfort and several hundred chairs will extend in two lines down the entire length of the store.

The Trivette Clothing company, 135 Peachtree street, near First Points, will give returns by radio to its Stinson Takes Off.

At the side of the runway, 2,500 feet distant when the Stinson-Detroiter took off sat a packing case. If Stinson were not in the air when he passed the packing case the veteran pilot had announced his determination to return and drain some of his load of gasoline.

Down the incline moved the plane, gathered speed as Stinson shoved in the throttle peg. Then it swerved a little to the left, menacing a hundred persons of the thousands who lined the runway. Stinson shut off speed and straightened it out. He had lost valuable momentum when he again dared to push the throttle peg.

Down the incline moved the plane, gathered speed as Stinson shoved in the throttle peg. Then it swerved a little to the left, menacing a hundred persons of the thousands who lined the runway. Stinson shut off speed and straightened it out. He had lost valuable momentum when he again dared to push the throttle peg.

At the side of the runway, 2,500 feet distant when the Stinson-Detroiter took off sat a packing case. If Stinson were not in the air when he passed the packing case the veteran pilot had announced his determination to return and drain some of his load of gasoline.

New Orleans Blanked by Wichita in Dixie Series Opener

Texas League Champs Win By 2-0 Score

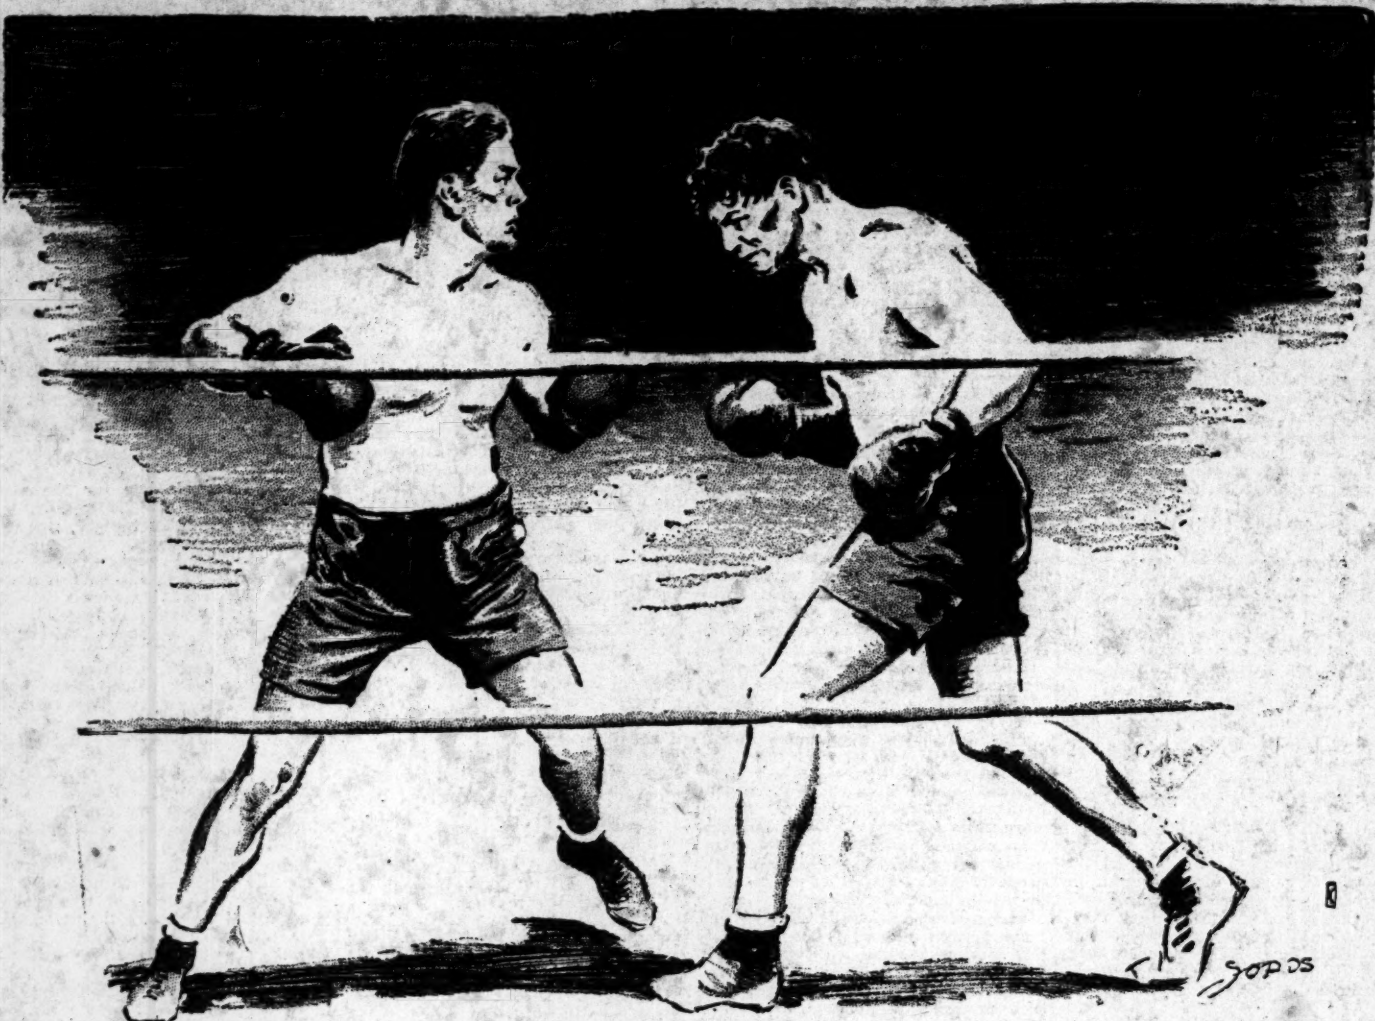

Pair of Doubles in Fifth Inning Give Spudders First Counter.

Wichita Falls, Texas, September 21.—(AP)—The Wichita Fall Spudders, of the Texas league, won the first game of the Dixie series here today when Dave Danforth, New Orleans Pelican twirler, yielded three hits in a south-paw duel with Fred Fussell, of the Texans. The score was 2-0.

Fussell carried the fight through nine innings. He also gave up three hits but kept them well scattered and was not handicapped by the errors which the Pelicans made the means of presenting the Spudders with a run. Wichita Falls romped across the plate for the first run in the fifth inning when Jenkins doubled to center field and the next man up, Swenson, duplicated the blow on the second ball pitched. The second run came in the eighth inning when Cobb, first man up, walked and advanced to second when Collard, who relieved Danforth on the mound in the seventh, fumbled Fussell's light tap. Karr followed Collard into the box for the Pelicans, duplicated his error and sent Cobb to third, from where he scored on Turron's fly to centerfield.

A cold wind swept the field throughout the game.

THE FIGHT IS ON

Greenville Wins Dixie "B" Title

Charlotte, N. C., September 21.—(AP)—The Greenville Spinners, Sally league champions, won a loose and ragged game from the Portsmouth Truckers, Virginia league champions, 5 to 4 here today, giving them the annual post-season series championship.

Greenville, by virtue of its performance, will meet Jacksonville, of the Southeastern league, for the Dixie class "B" series. Shoddy fielding by the Portsmouth infield was largely responsible for the Greenville victory. The Spinners gained a margin of 4 to 1 in the series play. Having, doing mound duty for the Virginians, was wild and erratic and in the five innings he worked he issued a half dozen free passes.

The game was uninteresting and slow. Portsmouth made a desperate bid for a ninth inning rally and succeeded in forcing three runners across the plate, but the Spinners tightened and the Truckers failed to add the run which would have tied the frays and perhaps given them a chance to prolong the series.

A FEW OPINIONS

Chicago, September 21.—(AP)—Opinions of representative boxing writers gathered by The Associated Press on the outcome of tomorrow's heavyweight championship fight revealed a substantial majority favoring Gene Tunney. Out of this array of critical talent a majority expressed themselves as confident of a Tunney victory, while some picked Jack Dempsey to regain the title. Others refused to go on record one way or the other.

While most of the experts confined themselves to an unvarnished choice, the following reflect some of the more detailed views: Warren Brown, Chicago Herald and Examiner—"I can't pick them when there's so much money involved. It's too uncertain." Jim Doyle, Cleveland Plain Dealer—"Tunney should be a 4-to-1 favorite, but I will take a chance on Dempsey."

Bob Edgren, New York Evening World—"Dempsey by a knockout in eight rounds." Ed Dickerson, Grand Rapids (Mich.) Herald—"I cannot see how a man who was so decisively outpointed a year ago can come back far enough, at his age, to win over a younger man who has been improving himself in the meantime. I expect to see Tunney knock out Dempsey by the eighth round." Sec Taylor, Des Moines Register and Tribune—"I pick Tunney to win, perhaps by a knockout." Harry Bullion, Detroit Free Press—"I pick Dempsey. He is 50 per cent better than last year and 25 per cent improved over his form against Sharkey."

Ed Hughes, Brooklyn (N. Y.) Eagle—"Tunney figures to win decisively, but my suspicions are such that I would not be surprised to see anything happen."

Hype Igoe, New York World—"On form, Tunney ought to be a 10-to-1 favorite, but I string with Dempsey, the long shot, nevertheless. I'm playing the 'hunch' on the old gladiator."

New Brown, New York World—"Tunney by a knockout."

Harry Cross, New York Herald-Tribune—"Tunney figures to win. Dempsey, like Bill Tilden, is too old to come back."

Jack Farrell, New York Daily News—"Dempsey by a knockout."

Ray Campbell, Cleveland News—"Tunney by a knockout, because he has improved while Dempsey has gone back too far."

Pat Frayne, San Francisco Call—"Dempsey, to stay ten rounds and a good chance to win."

Harry Hochstetler, Chicago Post—"Tunney, by decision."

BY DON MAXWELL.

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution) Chicago, September 21.—Unless it rains, or one of them is taken ill or injured, Gene Tunney, 29, and Jack Dempsey, 32, will box ten rounds or less tomorrow night at Soldier's field for the heavyweight championship of the world.

While the city was getting ready for the biggest fight in history the two men who play the principal roles in the drama were spending the day in idleness.

Tunney rested by reading in the library of the Fred Lundin home, a mile from his training camp.

Early tomorrow morning Tunney will motor to Chicago. Where he will remain until the call for his trip to Soldier's field is a secret held by Gene and Billy Gibson, his manager.

Dempsey, for whom the fight means a return to the greatest throne in pugilism or retirement from the ring, spent today playing cards with newspapermen at his training camp at the Lincoln Fields race track.

Who Will Win?

Aside from the fact that the presence of 150,000 men and women in the egg-shaped bowl on Chicago's lake front will make for one of the finest spectacles ever staged, aside from the economics of the battle with its tremendous receipts, its almost unbelievable purse, the question of which of the will be carried out of the ring the victor was the all-absorbing topic.

The majority of the fight critics—and there were 400 in Chicago to-

A Matter of Chance.

Among the famous last words of today are the following:

"I'll kayo him inside of four rounds."

"It will just be another story of the squashy-centennial."

"I never felt better in my life. I'll be the champion again Friday morning and then I'll fight anybody they bring along."

"He tried to go to time me last year at Philadelphia. He did business with the gamblers and they hooked me."

"Dempsey is backed by the riffraff and naturally they don't understand a gentleman."

"I don't know what kind of a program I will use in the ring until I see Dempsey's plan. BUT I'll knock him out this time."

These from the camps of the two battlers, who will prove that ages are really very short things by staging the second "battle of the age" in one year. Another year and it would be the battle of the aged.

From the agile typographical tools of the sports experts there comes another avalanche of "last words," but after reading them all the reader is so thoroughly confused that selection of a champion remains a matter of chance.

Never has there been a heavyweight battle with a bigger smoke screen covering a bigger gate than this one tonight, and the outcome will govern the future happenings in that line very largely.

If the fight is a draw or either fighter wins by a decision there will be many a fan with a "morning after" taste in his mouth. If there is a foul or a foul is charged, there will be more odoriferous aftermath. If Dempsey wins by a knockout there won't be any use of Calvin Coolidge "choosing" at all, because Jack will be elected president by public acclaim.

If Tunney wins by a knockout the Dempsey backers will have him arrested for abusing an inmate of the old men's home, and if the former devil dog wins a decision he probably will be lynched along with referee and all the other principals except Dempsey.

This is not an offer of sympathy to Gene Tunney. The pseudo-intellectual champion deserves no sympathy. The cracks that are accredited to him about the "riff-raff" following Dempsey may not have been made by Gene, but it is noticeable that he does not deny such in his statements.

It's a good play in the end, anyway. Most of the gang will be there to see Dempsey win, and most of the rest will be there to see Tunney get pumpe. And it swells the gate receipts. Tunney has many friends and thousands will be there to see him win, but outside of those who are backing the champion with their money, there won't be a hand full there rooting for the downfall of Dempsey.

This column picked Tunney to win, and that being our story we'll stick to it. The cold dope seems to be with Tunney, but that doesn't change the sentiment. Just how much sentiment means in the fight game will be put to a great test tonight.

To one who must stay in Atlanta—just a bit further away than the $30 section—the only solace remains in conjecture.

Let's suppose, for instance, that the fight is a draw. Even the supposition amelis to heaven; but it is possible, and if such a fiasco does take place it will be possible to work up a fine ballyhoo for a return match in London or some other remote place where the stench would lose some of its power.

While supposing we can wonder just what will happen if Tunney is kayoed by the "comebacker." In that case, the form of Jack Delaney looms big in the background with another gate of millions for this country or one across the seas.

If Dempsey wins a decision there will be little satisfaction for anyone. His close backers can say "he beat the champion at his own game." But there will still be the feeling that the great mauler has lost much of his punch.

If Tunney wins a decision, it will be the more or less expected result and the stalwart form of the Manassa mauler probably will take its last curtain call. BUT, if Tunney should win by a knockout he will gain at least a bit in popularity by stealing some of Dempsey's huge store.

If you were planning the fight and could play the game as you liked you would have Dempsey win by a knockout, and as a second choice you would probably have Tunney win by a knockout—this with the understanding that you were planning for the future.

Plan the thing carefully and then get your ouija board and find out if you are right.

Pass Defense Is Practiced By Jackets

Tech Grid Candidates Spend Most Afternoon Knocking Down Passes.

BY BEN COTHMAN.

That the gentlemen who direct the activities of Tech's football players believe passing will be used in a more general scope this season in the southern conference, was clearly shown at the Platts Wednesday afternoon when Tech's ends and Tech's backs spent the major portion of their afternoon of work and play in defense work on passes.

The scene was one of wild and frantic endeavor as various young gentlemen scurried about the field, leaping into the air to knock down heaves—some wild and some tame—for which other young gentlemen were waiting to come their way. Of course, the men on defense knew exactly where each pass was going, and to whom, but considering the manner in which some of the heaves were heaved, they made a good job of it withal.

It was also clearly shown in Wednesday's activities that Tech needs a young man with a toe versatile enough to send the ball a good distance down the field when the occasion comes for a kick-off. Coach Alexander picked out a bunch of teams, and taking them two at a time, put them on the field, lined one up in formation for kicking off, the other in formation for receiving and the lads went to it. Sometimes the ball got back far enough for a back to get hold of it, but a majority of them fell, or rolled into the arms of tackles and ends.

The day ended with a light skirmish between a varsity combination and Hank Bjorkman's Red Devils in blue shirts. It was very short, and fair, and the varsity had little chance to make much showing.

Linemen Work Hard.

While the backs and ends were hard at perfecting a defense against aerial attacks of any sort, Bill Fincher was being taken on a Cook's tour around the lower end of the field by a group of linemen puffing and sweating at a bucking machine. Following that they made a sortie at the tackling dummies before joining the rest of the squad for practicing kicking.

Stumpy Thomason, ball carrier of note and of whom you have heard, no doubt, came out in uniform Tuesday afternoon after clearing his last entrance barrier Monday, and had hard-

Famous Conditioner of Boxers and Former Trainer of Jack Dempsey (Copyright, 1927, in All Countries by North American Newspaper Alliance). If he does, he will be the first heavyweight champion of the world who ever regained his title from the man who took it from him.

Dempsey Spends Fight Eve In Chi

Chicago, September 21.—(AP)—Jack Dempsey started tonight on the real come-back trail, the trail leading out of Lincoln Fields race track to Chicago and Soldier field, where tomorrow night he will engage Gene Tunney in quest of regaining the world's heavyweight championship.

With his wife, Estelle Taylor, and a couple of friends as companions, Dempsey motored 40 miles into the city at dusk to go to his quarters, a hangar 42 stories above the street on the roof of the Morrison hotel. He planned to retire before 10 p. m. for a restful sleep, a sleep that means so much on the eve of what will be the most important battle of his life.

Dempsey spent a quiet day in camp. Jack was mean and crabbed in the afternoon, a sure sign of condition, in the opinion of his handlers. Dempsey will fight in black trunks with red stripes on the sides, the same he wore for the fight with Jack Sharkey. Leo P. Flynn, his manager; "Jerry the Greek" (Luvadis), Gus Wilson and Bill Duffy, a New York cafe owner, will be his seconds. Flynn will be in complete charge.

ly started practice before he slipped and turned his ankle, necessitating his repairing to the dressing room, or a rub and taping of the ankle. Trained Barron says that the injury isn't a bad one and that Stumpy should be okay in a day or so.

Martin, Hecke and Oitz, all of them with bad limbs which have been with them for the last couple of days, were all out of uniform Wednesday and looking on from the sidelines.

A heavy scrimmage is probably in store for the jackets this afternoon. Ten days from today they play V. M. I.

That the young Mr. Thomason—he's 21—is rather adept at carrying a football down the field became a well known fact back in 1924 when he ran under the colors of Tech High on its southern championship eleven.

Stumpy has 170 pounds of lightning speed crammed into his five feet and seven inches of height and it's indeed a pleasure to watch him twist, squirm and slide-step his way through the fraction of an opening, and in an elusive hip-swinging fashion get

Pirates Win, Tighten Grip On Top Place

Bucs Turn Tables on Robins and Take Final Game, 4-2.

Pittsburgh, September 21.—(AP)—Pittsburgh closed out the series with the Robins with a 4 to 2 victory today, thereby regaining a three and one-half game lead in the national pennant race as the Giants and Cards, who are tied for second place, were idle.

John Miljus, former Brooklyn player who was purchased in mid-season from Seattle, of the Coast league by the Pirates, yielded only five hits against nine gathered off McWeeny, of the Robins. The Corsair attack was concentrated in the fourth inning when four singles and McWeeny's wildness allowed four runs to cross the plate.

Lloyd Waner made three singles to set a new modern major league record for one base hits in a season. He tied the old mark of 170 achieved by Johnny Robins with the Browns in 1921 during yesterday's game.

through a broken field for long gains. Tech gained a good halfback when Stumpy came to school and no foolin'.

Last year on the freshman team he ran wild, and despite a busted ankle, gave flashes of the brilliance that will be brought by the process of varsity college football. He turned his ankle in practice yesterday, but it wasn't a serious injury, and won't keep the name of Thomason from causing southern conference teams plenty of worry.

Petrel Coach Misses First Grid Workout

Robertson Expected To Arrive Today and Take Over Varsity Work.

BY FRED McEACHIN.
The first call to practice for the Petrels of Oglethorpe Wednesday afternoon was answered by a score or more of varsity men, reserves and Fresh of last season. The scheduled practice proved to be nothing more than an assembly of gridsters in a mild workout under the supervision of Athletic Director Anderson. The afternoon proceedings consisted chiefly of an exercise drill, passing and punting and a couple of jogs around the field. Of course, the versatile photographers were present to reveal in the snapping of the first shots of the Oglethorpe boys in uniform this year.

This inactivity was due to the fact that Head Coach Robertson was detained en route to the city from his pilgrimage to New York university, assisting Chick Meahan with his task of rounding another successful team. However, he is expected back today to take his charges in hand and commence the hard annual grind of pre-season training. It is a sure bet that the candidates on hand today will not have the light routine which was their good fortune Wednesday. There are plenty hard games to be played before the final whistle is blown on December 17, and consequently there are ample hard, laborious workouts and scrimmages in store for the Petrels in the course of the ensuing three weeks before the opening frays with the Charleston outfit in Charleston October 15.

All regulars have returned with the exception of Captain Major Guthrie and Cliff White, two important factors on the Oglethorpe eleven, the former holding down one of the guard positions and the latter being a husky and valuable halfback. They are expected to don uniforms for today's practice.

Several members of the rat team of '26 checked in Wednesday, who will prove important material for this season's varsity crew. Among these are Mims and Poole, candidates for the center position; Sewell, Aldridge, Burford, McLaughlin and H. Bell, stellar guards.

While the varsity men were having their fun the rats were catching plenty of work under the commands of Coach Chestnut. There were about 40 of these husky yearlings on hand and it is not at all difficult to discern that they will develop into a fleet and hard-fighting bunch of footballers. It is obvious that they will give the varsity plenty of opposition when scrimmages begin.

INDIANS WIN, 6-5.
Philadelphia, Sept. 21.—The Cleveland Indians took the opening game of the series with the Athletics today by a score of 6 to 5, winning on singles by Fonseca and Hodapp in the ninth inning.

Score by innings: R. Cleveland.....000 122 000—6 Philadelphia.....111 001 000—5

LAST-MINUTE VICTORY.
Boston, Sept. 21.—Pitching in the last half of the ninth with one on base and two out, Red Rolings drove on a double that enabled Boston to defeat Chicago 3 to 2 in the opening game of the series today. With one out Combs struck Meyer, Roling sacrificed, and the stage was set for Rolings. Weiler let Chicago down with six hits, but two fast double plays lifted him out of tight places.

Score by innings: R. Chicago.....000 000 110—2 Boston.....010 010 001—3

SENATORS BLANK BROWNS.
Washington, Sept. 21.—Held to five hits by Lisenbee, the St. Louis Browns were shut out today by Washington, 10 to 0, in the first game of the series.

Score by innings: R. St. Louis.....000 000 000—0 Washington.....000 100 010—10

RAVE HITS NUMBER 55.
New York, Sept. 21.—The Yankees gave their worst fielding exhibition of the season here today and lost the opener of a series to Detroit by 6 to 1, running the Bengal winning streak to seven. Sam Glibson pitched a strong game for the Tigers and had the New Yorkers shut out until Babe Ruth hit his fifty-fifth home run of the year in the ninth. Not only were the Huggins gaffs of six errors but all sorts of mental lapses cropped out with throws to wrong bases and failures to throw the ball.

Score by innings: R. Detroit.....103 010 100—6 New York.....000 000 001—1

Fight Returns

The Henry Grady hotel will stage a radio fight party at the hotel this evening for the benefit of a company of distinguished guests and as many of the general public as can be accommodated in the lobbies.

Places have been arranged for the guests of honor before the loud speaker and the hotel management, through Cecil Cannon, has invited the public to hear this report from the greatest prize ring encounter of the age.

Tunney Whiles Time Away In Library

Lake Villa, Ill., September 21.
—(P)—Satisfied that the physical man has been amply prepared for battle with Jack Dempsey in five months of steady training, Gene Tunney turned scholar today and for three hours browsed through the library of Fred Lundin, Chicago politician and a near neighbor for the time being.

Although the heavyweight champion must face the bid of Dempsey to regain the title in Soldier field tomorrow night, he forgot the $1,000,000 engagement entirely in scanning the hundreds of rare volumes on the shelves of the tiny glass-enclosed library. But like carrying a sandwich in a banquet, Tunney brought along a copy of "On Human Bondage" that he has been attempting to read for the past three weeks.

Before the visit Tunney trotted four miles on the road this morning, his final preparation for the title test. Cameramen took their final "shots" when he returned. Tunney will probably weigh in before members of the Illinois boxing commission at his downtown hotel some time tomorrow afternoon.

After the road work this morning Tunney started the "drying out" process calculated to tune him to razor edge for the battle.

Georgia Squad Shows Well In Scrimmage

Cook, Hooks and Estes Get Away for Gains in Season's Second Skirmish.

Athens, Ga., September 21.—(Special).—Sanford field was the scene of the second scrimmage of the season Wednesday afternoon for the Georgia Bulldogs. The scrimmage incidentally was a far different affair from the initial engagement displaying a much improved all round attack and defense. Buster Cook, Bobby Hooks and Roy Estes were the afternoon stars of the offense. Buster got away time and again for comfortable gains of from seven to 20 yards, using his hips like the proverbial snake. Estes and Hooks both displayed nice side-stepping forms. Roy was throwing forward passes with the accuracy of a rifle. Besides accounting for quite a few gains around the ends and off tackle, on the first two times that he ran with the ball Hooks scored touchdowns, carrying the piskin each time for a distance of about 40 yards.

These gains were made possible to a certain extent by some excellent blocking by the offensive backs and line. Gene Smith, guard, made several nice plays in this connection. The offensive line, however, showed rather ragged form as a whole.

Hill Looks Good.
Battling John Hill, playing guard for the defense, was the outstanding satellite for this team. He made more tackles than any lineman in the afternoon's play. The defensive backfield was on its toes the whole afternoon and all of it showed up well. Jackson and Kelly especially looked good.

Jackson was hurt when clipped by Gene Smith and had to leave the field. His injuries will probably keep him out of the game for the next three or four days.

Fight Returns At Auditorium

Those who have to get their big fight "second-hand" but still want to be as near the ringside as possible in imagination, will have an opportunity to witness a couple of good fights and at the same time get radio returns of the big battle at city auditorium tonight.

The arrangements have been completed for a radio hookup which will give the details blow-by-blow and two fighters will be in the ring to reproduce the fight in mimicry as it is announced.

Casey Jones and Battling Stein will meet in one bout and the other fight on the local ring will feature Homer Reid and Battling Madrox. The fights will be held first and if they are not finished by the time the radio opens from Chicago they will be finished after the broadcasting is over.

Mrs. Fraser Eliminates Miss Collett

Former Atlanta Woman Defeats Ex-Champion in National Tournament.

Cherry Valley Golf Club, September 21.—Glenna Collett, queen of American golfers in 1922 and 1923, was eliminated in the second round of the national championship here today by Alexa Stirling Fraser, who also held national honors in 1916, 1919, 1920. Mrs. Fraser won by 2 up and at the same time evened accounts for a decisive defeat at the hands of Miss Collett two years ago.

The defeat of Miss Collett, who had confidently expected to recover the prettier crown this year, was the outstanding feature of the second round.

The elimination of Miss Collett continues a streak of champion killing that has made this tournament already remarkable. Mrs. G. Henry Stetson, defending titleholder, failed to survive the qualifying test Monday and Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, twice former champion, lost in the opening round yesterday.

Glenna Collett lost today mainly because of her bulky putter. The hard hitting Providence girl was consistently uncertain on short putts and this weakness finally cost her the match.

Mrs. Fraser, who as Alexa Stirling, of Atlanta, ruled American golf three years, was almost Miss Collett's equal in distance off the tee, while the approaching of both was just about the same. The deciding factor narrowed down to the greens, and here Mrs. Fraser, who is now entered from Canada, was more accurate.

On the outway journey Mrs. Fraser and Miss Collett each won two holes, and were all square at the turn, each having taken 43 strokes.

Simultaneously with Mrs. Fraser's victory the foreign invasion also became more dangerous as Mlle. De La Chaume, champion of France and England, and Ada MacKenzie, of Canada, who won the medal here Monday, also came through to the third round.

Mlle. MacKenzie, a tall, powerful girl, who drives very far down the fairways, performed splendidly to win from Helen Payson, of Maine, by 4 up and 2. The Canadian girl was in front all the way and was never seriously threatened.

Mlle. De La Chaume, however, had a strenuous time to defeat Mrs. H. F. Hilditch of Detroit, by a single hole. The French girl was erratic and brilliant by turns while the steadiness of the American woman made the outcome doubtful to the finish where Mlle. Chaume made one of her frequent sensational spurts and won the match.

New York's two young hopefuls, Maureen O'Connell, 19-year-old metropolitan champion, and Miss Marie Jenny, former holder of sectional honors, advanced with flying colors.

Miss O'Connell Plays Well.
Miss O'Connell, playing beautifully, defeated Rosalind Knapp 3 up and 4 to go, while Miss Jenny triumphed over Jane Brooks 6 up and 5.

Mrs. Harry Pressler, of Los Angeles, western champion, was surprised in this tournament, continued her winning streak with a victory over Mrs. Courtland T. Smith by 1 up.

Mrs. Miriam Burns Horn, one of the best golfers in the middle west, became a championship factor when she defeated Bernice Wall by 5 up and 4. Miss Wall has provided stubborn opposition in recent championships, but was no match today for the smooth shooting girl from Missouri.

The public is invited to attend the meet free of charge, and it is pointed out by club officials that spectators need not be members of any club to witness the dual meet.

A. A. C. TEAM WORKS HARD FOR MEET

If the surface of East Lake does not freeze over before the time for the starter's gun Saturday the swimmers from Coral Gables will venture from the warm climate of the sunshine state to do battle with the A. A. C. tank team on that day.

It has been rumored that the Florida champions have an ace in the hole in the person of one Shiels, who wins everything down the line except the dive.

The cold weather at the club has shortened the training hours of the A. A. C. outfit, but it is noticeable in spite of this fact that Captain "Red" Holliman and his teammates are preparing very seriously for the invasion of the Floridians.

The public is invited to attend the meet free of charge, and it is pointed out by club officials that spectators need not be members of any club to witness the dual meet.

Fight Experts Pick Tunney

night—are picking Tunney to beat Dempsey and keep the title. The majority of the fight fans apparently think Dempsey will win.

Reports from gamblers in Chicago and throughout the country showed that the small bettors are wagering on the challenger. At one time today so much money was placed on Jack to win that the odds swung around and made him the favorite.

But the gamblers say the smart money hasn't been bet yet. They think it will come rolling tomorrow afternoon. They believe that word of a fix may circulate around the lightning speed and the folks in the know will then lay their wagers.

Gamblers Waiting.
It happened at Philadelphia. Up until the day of the battle Dempsey was the odds-on favorite. But on the afternoon of the fight, the word went out from some mysterious source that Tunney would win. And the Tunney money flooded the bookmakers.

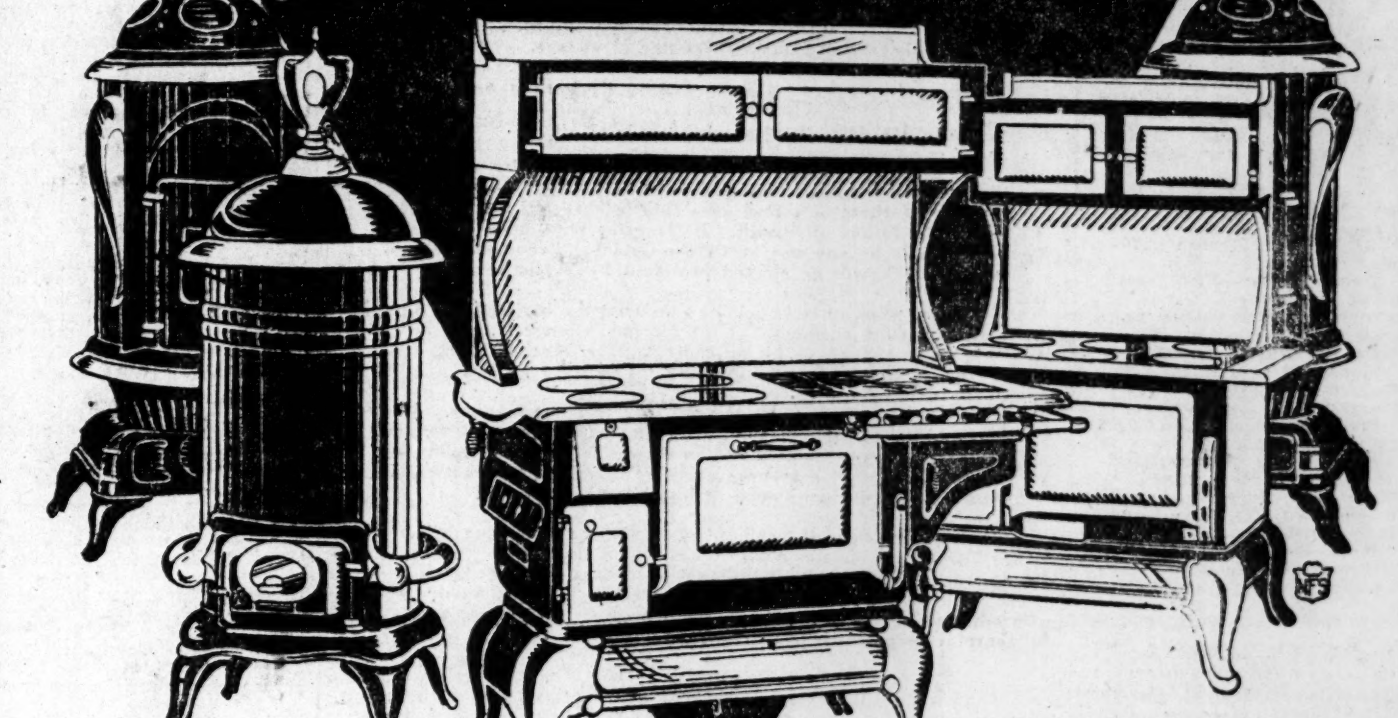

Tunney hasn't fought since he won the title. He has kept in condition by outdoor exercise and by sparring practice at his camp in the Adirondacks. He has been training on the shore of Fox lake for several weeks. His trainers agree with him that he is in perfect shape. There is only one flaw in this statement. A week ago Tunney suffered a cut above his right eye. It has healed but Dempsey may reopen it. If he does Tunney might be partially blinded.

Forget-Me-Not Spirit Reigns In Hearts of Atlanta Today

"Lest We Forget" will be truly expressed today by the hundreds of Atlantans wearing a tiny blue forget-me-not, thus keeping faith with those heroes who were disabled during the world war. Representatives from over 50 women's organizations will assist the Service Star Legion, sponsoring the Forget-Me-Not day drive, in the sale of this symbolic flower, the wounded veterans to benefit from the sale. Volunteer workers will be at their posts at 7:30 o'clock this morning and throughout the day will bend every effort to reach the $5,000 goal.

General headquarters for the sale has been established at Haverly's furniture store, where Mrs. H. M. Nichols, general chairman, will be in charge, with her committee, including Mrs. Morton Rolleston, vice chairman; Mrs. J. R. Bachman, Mrs. J. C. Mellichamp, Mrs. C. W. LeCraw, Mrs. E. B. Williams, Mrs. V. H. Cooke, Mrs. J. W. Willis, Mrs. Howard McCall, Mrs. W. D. Hoffman, Mrs. M. L. Brittain, Mrs. Stanley Moore, Mrs. James Finch, Mrs. J. H. Lucas.

The financial committee, with headquarters at the Lowry bank: Mrs. L. P. Rosser, chairman; Mrs. Porter King, Mrs. Will Kiser, Mrs. Irving Thomas, Mrs. Wilmer Moore, Mrs. Elsa Corrigan, Mrs. H. M. Williams, Mrs. James Jordan, Mrs. Patrick Bray, Mrs. Marcus Beck, Mrs. James L. Tye, Mrs. Charles Seiple, Mrs. Newton Wing, the chairman of drives for the City Federation of Women's Clubs, will be in charge of the sale around five points.

A group of prominent young matrons representing the young matrons' chapter of the Service Star Legion, of which Mrs. Fort Adams is president, will be located at the Peachtree corner of Davison-Parkway company throughout the day. Mrs. Philip Graves will be in charge of this group, which includes Mrs. Boyce Worth, Mrs. F. B. Ramey, Mrs. Livingston Wright, Mrs. R. H. White, Jr., Mrs. Dan Woodward, Mrs. George Bell, Mrs. E. Smythe Gambrell, Mrs. George Campbell, Mrs. William Candler, Mrs. Ada Theabaut Spurl, Mrs. Carroll McGaughey, Mrs. Lucius McConnell, Mrs. Fort Adams and Mrs. Beverly Dufosse.

Miss Neel Weds

Clifton S. Shifflett.

Miss Ethel Mallory Neel, daughter of Professor Charles M. Neel, was married to Clifton Shifflett September 12 in St. James chapel of St. John the Divine, New York, according to word received here.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. George Francis Nelson. The bride was given in marriage by an old family friend, J. G. Zerkow, of Caruso and Faur with the Metropolitan opera. Mrs. Shifflett's father is well known as one of the foremost educators of the state. She belongs to a number of the oldest southern families.

Mr. and Mrs. Shifflett are now at home in their apartment in New York, 30 West Seventy-third street, but Mrs. Shifflett will carry out plans already made for a concert tour this fall and winter.

Mrs. Shifflett spent three years in Italy studying voice under the famous conductor, Podesti, who will be remembered in Atlanta as conducting Caruso and Faur with the Metropolitan opera. Mrs. Shifflett's father is well known as one of the foremost educators of the state. She belongs to a number of the oldest southern families.

Mr. Shifflett's great grandfather was a relative of Jefferson, with adjoining plantations in Lexington, also related to the Randolphs and Baileys, of Virginia, and Mr. Shifflett.

"Stupidity and Ignorance Trouble With State"—Wright

ROME LEGISLATOR SAYS EDUCATION IS REMEDY

Athens, Ga., September 21.—(Special.)—Intelligence, virtue and public education are the fundamentals upon which the forefathers built this government and they must be maintained if the nation as conceived by its founders, is to escape tyranny or anarchy. Senator Wright, of Rome, declared here Wednesday at the opening of the one hundred and twenty-seventh session of the University of Georgia.

The founders of this nation, possessing an understanding of the teachings of history did not propose to form this nation on force but upon virtue and intelligence, he declared, and they knew that public education must be furnished if a democracy is to survive.

"In Georgia we must have tax revision, if we have adequate public education," he said, "and only the legislature can give that."

After discussing the intentions of the forefathers in coupling "virtue, intelligence and public education," as the trinity of principles upon which the United States should survive, Mr. Wright asserted that the legislature must be given the power to give it. He then discussed the necessity for public education in Georgia if the state is to develop the virtue and intelligence of its citizens.

"Georgia today is suffering from stupidity and ignorance, and if it is to obtain relief the legislature must give it. The intelligence and virtue as far as the masses go are dependent upon public education." The latter cannot be provided except by money.

OLD BRYAN-WILSON DEMOCRACY URGED

Kenton, Ohio, September 21.—(AP) Formation of a progressive-democratic alliance along the lines of the old Bryan-Wilson democracy and not the boasting of any particular presidential candidate is the purpose of a proposed conference of progressive-democratic leaders in Chicago early in December, according to W. W. Durbin, for many years Ohio democratic state chairman, who is making arrangements for the conference.

The announcement in New York yesterday by Patrick H. Callahan, of Louisville, dry democratic leader of Kentucky and prominent Roman Catholic layman, that such a conference is being arranged, Mr. Durbin today issued a statement from his home here on its purpose. The conference, he said, would be merely for the purpose of keeping the party along progressive democratic lines, to conduct the campaign upon live economic issues should not permit side issues to divert the people from the real thing which interested them.

"It will not be for the purpose of discussing candidates or boosting a particular aspirant," he said. "Mr. Durbin's idea is that as the party is kept along progressive lines, it will be able to unite it and make an effective appeal to progressive republicans and independent voters with hope of success next year. He contends that the party is greater than any man or set of men and takes no stock in threats of defeat, if any particular candidate is not nominated."

"The average democrat and progressive in the country does not care who the candidate is so much as what that candidate represents. The great majority of democrats and republicans in this country are progressive. This was shown in 1912 when Wilson and Roosevelt, together, received over 10,000,000 votes as against Taft, a reactionary, who received 2,000,000."

"A conference of this kind must be one to plan for victory and not for defeat. Therefore, it must not concern itself so much with candidates as with principles that appeal to the country and which will bring forth a proper representative who can carry these principles into effect."

Mr. Durbin broke with Governor A. V. Duffel, who after the election assumed office, but the governor's friends say their friendship has been at least partly restored and that Durbin is not the hostile kind of a grudge—that he forgets and forgives.

Mr. Durbin says the call for the conference is to be sent to a score of democratic national leaders.

DUBLIN, GA., RUN-OFF ELECTION NECESSARY

Dublin, Ga., September 22.—(Thursday.)—(AP)—When the votes in Wednesday's city election were counted at 1 o'clock this morning it was found that E. E. Higdon and Colonel L. C. Pope will have to go to the polls again next week to decide who will serve Dublin as mayor.

The election was held on Tuesday, September 20, when the field was divided with Pope second and J. F. Flanders third, but neither of the two leaders received the necessary majority.

There were three candidates for aldermen from the first ward, D. G. Adams, W. H. Sutherland and W. R. Wynne. Sutherland and Wynne received the majority and will represent the first ward.

C. P. Ward was unopposed from the second ward. There was a lively contest in the third ward with C. D. Devereaux, M. L. Jernigan, W. R. Smith and J. D. Doudas as candidates. The two high men were Jernigan and Smith, and they will run it off next week.

F. R. Zetterover was unopposed in the fourth ward. The vote in Wednesday's election was unusually heavy, 1,111 votes being polled. It was after midnight before the ballots had been counted and an hour when the vote was consolidated. A large number of women voted. There was no disorder despite the great amount of interest.

H. R. Moffitt, present mayor, has served two terms and did not stand for reelection.

GIRL LASH VICTIM FAILS TO APPEAR AT ALABAMA TRIAL

Florence, Ala., September 21.—(AP) Marie Bishop, alleged flogging victim, and her parents were still missing tonight, when the girl's reputed sweetheart, under indictment for assault and kidnapping in connection with the alleged flogging, was free from jail on bond.

Kelly's trial was continued yesterday, when his accusers failed to appear and search by officers for the Bishops tonight had proved unavailing.

WOMAN IS TAKEN TO JAIL DRESSED IN NEWSPAPER

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)—Indianapolis, September 21.—(AP)—Arrested Saturday on a charge of auto theft, Mrs. Dixie Taylor, 35 of Freetown, was delivered to the county jail today clad only in a newspaper. She had given up her dress to a friend for safekeeping.

The woman was taken to jail after she had been arrested by police officers. She was found in a rooming house and was taken to jail in a newspaper.

Macon, Ga., September 21.—(AP)—Cliff T. Williamson, who has served as water commissioner for 14 years, was reelected today for a period of six years. He received 1,575 votes out of a total of 1,583, there being two opponents.

Legionnaires Find Guides Don't Know Battlefields

RED IS BOUNCED OFF DOUGHBOY TRAIN

BY RALPH HEINZEN. Paris, September 21.—(United News.)—Back to its normal war psychology after the cheers of the last few days, the second American expeditionary force is complaining of the conduct of the battle of Paris.

Everybody is having a good time, of course; and the folks back home will be told that everybody thinks that the American Legion convention has been one of the greatest shows on earth. But just now the general opinion among the doughboy element is that it's a rotten peace, as it was a rotten war.

The legionnaires who go to the battlefields complain that the guides don't know their trenches, and that the men who fought the mud and the Germans in them can find them better by themselves only they don't have time as the tours are run on schedule. Also they say that the guides tell the wrong stories of the way the battles were won, and get mixed up when they try to tell which division fought there.

Then there is the question of standing in line. They used to stand in line for food at messes, now they are standing in line for doughnuts, and to obtain steamship and battlefield tickets and to get into the convention hall.

Red Is Bounced. But all that is just a reminder that the A. E. F. is getting back to normal and is fighting the battle of Paris as thoroughly as it fought in the world war, when they boys complained about the food and joked about death.

The A. E. F. is enjoying itself hugely. There was much enthusiasm on the way to Verdun today when four legionnaires bounced a communist onto a station platform from the train. The red was sitting in a compartment.

HIGHT IS SILENT IN SWEET TRIAL

Mount Vernon, Ill., September 21.—(AP)—"Prison etiquette" has sealed the lips of Hight, the silent, former Methodist clergyman, now serving a life term in the Chester prison for the murder of Willard Sweetin, his admiral in the United States navy, in the trial of Mrs. Elsie Sweetin, widow of the slain man and his alleged accomplice in the poison murder.

Hight, who has stood by the defense in the trial within a trial, which has been in progress for the last two days, before the judge has been hearing testimony, said he would not have a friend in prison if he gave evidence to convict anyone.

The state introduced evidence to show that Mrs. Sweetin had confessed to four different persons that she poisoned her husband. The first confession the state sought to show was to Frank G. Thompson, then state's attorney, the next to two newspaper reporters who interviewed Mrs. Sweetin and the fourth to C. C. Sweetin, the father of the slain man.

The defense contends that under the rules laid down by the supreme court of Illinois concerning confessions obtained from persons after they have been placed under arrest, none of the confessions are admissible as evidence.

Mrs. Sweetin herself was called to the stand and related a story of alleged persecution. She charged that she had been kept awake all night and questioned for hours, not only by the officers of Jefferson county, but by newspaper reporters who became abusive and shouted at her.

She said that she had been threatened with mob violence if she did not confess, and that finally, tired, sleepless and sick, she had made a confession at the instigation of her alleged co-conspirator, Hight, who already admitted his part in the poison plot.

Hight placed on the stand by the defense, said he had told Mrs. Sweetin there was danger that they would be taken by a mob unless she told some story, and advised her to make the statement.

AVIATOR DELAYS AUSTRALIAN HOP, TO START TODAY

Detroit, September 21.—(AP)—Captain F. A. Giles, Australian aviator, who planned to leave today for Chicago, the first leg of his proposed flight to Wellington, New Zealand, announced this afternoon that he would postpone his departure until 6 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Stiff headwinds between Detroit and Chicago were given as the cause.

TWO SOUTHERNERS DIE IN NICARAGUA BANDIT BATTLE

Washington, September 21.—(AP)—The navy department announced today that the marine who was killed in an engagement with bandits at Telapanea, Nicaragua, was Private Splendon Clyde Russell, of Tinela, Ala., and that Private James G. Glasser, of Glasgow, N. Y., was mortally wounded in the same engagement.

The only means of communication with the Telapanea garrison is by air. Panel signals and further details are expected later. In the meantime a relief column has been dispatched from Pueblo Nueva to aid the garrison.

AMERICUS SETS DATE FOR CITY PRIMARY

Americus, Ga., September 21.—(Special.)—October 1 has been fixed by the city democratic committee for holding a white primary in Americus. Three candidates for aldermanic places will be named in this primary.

November 1, and whose places are to be filled in the October primary are G. C. Webb, H. S. Walker and Nathan A. May.

Notwithstanding the recent death of Mayor J. E. Poole, no provision for nominating his successor as mayor was made by the committee in fixing the date for the forthcoming aldermanic primary. Under the city charter a successor for Mayor Poole must be elected within 30 days.

Daniel Home Looted.

The home of Dr. C. H. Daniel, at 444 Wabash avenue, was entered by burglars Wednesday, according to a report by Patrolmen Wallace and Holland. A number of dresses belonging to Mrs. Daniel were stolen, it was said.

Dozens of legionnaires have tried vainly to break the beer-drinking record established in August, 1926, by a Boston student—18.5 seconds to ease down a five-pint glassful of beer.

One grave complaint is that the supply of canteens in the legion section of town has been exhausted. Complaining of lack of organization, the legionnaires ask:

"What is Paris without a canteen?"

Politicians among the legionnaires are getting busier every day. A dozen candidates are being boomed for the commandery, and a dozen towns are trying to obtain the 1929 convention—San Antonio, Texas, already having been picked for 1928, Miami, Fla., and Columbus, Ohio, seem leading.

For Grouchy Husbands

What an old bear he is when he comes home from work in the evening! Of course he's been working hard all day, and the trip home has probably been trying—but then your day has been trying, too, and you're cheerful and pleasant. You don't realize, perhaps, that it was that cup of RIDGWAYS TEA you stopped for at five o'clock that makes the difference between your temper and his. You don't see any excuse for his biting your head off and growling.

Well, then, tomorrow suppose you try this simple remedy for grouchy husbands that other wives have found works just like a charm. Tomorrow night when he comes home, offer him a freshly brewed cup of RIDGWAYS TEA. Give it to him just as he likes it—with sugar and cream or lemon. He'll probably say he doesn't want it at first. He'll growl just as usual. But as soon as that delicious, stimulating flavor reaches him, he'll change his mind.

Two minutes later he'll be a different man. He'll feel warmed and soothed inside. His worries will somehow melt away. He'll feel revived, refreshed, comforted—even cheerful. In another minute he'll beam at you and be his own sweet self again.

Any one of the three perfect blends of RIDGWAYS TEA can do this. Their world-famous flavor and refreshing goodness have saved many a man's temper and many a woman's disposition!

THE GUMPS—ONE MAN IN A MILLION

They Wouldn't Believe
By ROY VICKERS.

SYNOPSIS.
On the way to Donald Briery's house for luncheon Connie Elmore, Donald's fiancée, tells her friend Olive Weston that Donald stands a chance of inheriting a half a million from the estate of old Harrowby, a friend of Donald's father.
Olive and Connie share a flat in London. Olive is secretly in love with Donald but sincerely pines for Connie's good fortune in winning him.
Sandle and Querk, solicitors handling the Harrowby estate, are crooked and plot to cheat Donald Briery of the fortune by having a spurious heir appear whose claim is prior to Donald's. In the midst of the plotting, Augustus Briery, Donald's father, presumed to have died when the Titanic sank, calls on Sandle. Querk suggests to Sandle that he invite Briery to Harrowby house and there, with the assistance of Querk's too Woods, dispose of Briery.
Connie decides to visit her old nurse, who is now caretaker of Harrowby house. Mrs. Jones is out but Connie finds the key and lets herself in to wait for her. She hears strange noises in the library and goes to investigate. She sees Mr. Sandle and another man kill Mr. Briery, whom she recognizes from his portrait. Rushing out of the house, Connie stimulates into Mr. Querk. While telling her story Querk smokes the bell and sends a signal to the murderers. Connie sees a policeman and calling him the three proceed to the library and Connie asks Querk to open the secret panel in the wall where she had seen the man place the body. It is empty. Querk accompanies her to the police station, where she tells her story in the superintendent's office. Querk intimates that the policeman the superintendent goes to see Olive, who has never heard her story.
Querk requests Sandle to come to the superintendent's office and he presents his alibi which the police officer accepts. The two lawyers proceed to Woods's office where old man Tuttle and his son, the spurious heir, await them. The old man dies just after they walk into the office and Sandle and Querk leave by the back door.
The next morning Connie calls on Querk and meets young Jones in his office. She recognizes him as her old nurse's son but does not know that he has been posing as Henry Tuttle, Jr. Querk later pretends that Connie imagined she saw young Jones. He tells Olive that Sandle is about to bring a criminal suit against Connie unless Olive, as her nearest friend, has her committed to a private institution which he recommends.

INSTALLMENT XXXIV.
SENTENCE IS PASSED.
Connie sat up in sheer surprise. She did not know that it was a common form of insanity to believe oneself insane—and that the denial of someone else invariably produced sneaked surprise.
"Your trouble is simply nervous exhaustion," Sir Theodore went on. "If you go on as you're going now, you're making yourself and everybody else that you are mad—well, you can make a thing true by constant repetition. The mind can be overfatigued, can be damaged and broken down and repaired exactly as the body. I am telling you that your mind is overfatigued, exactly as your family doctor might tell you that your body is below par. The prescription is much the same. You require a period of rest."
Connie closed her eyes. She was not listening. She knew that Sir Theodore was telling her that she was not a raving lunatic but that she was what she and Olive would have called "a bit touched."
"Well, now, my friend tells me you were going for a holiday. A very good idea. But you're not in a fit condition to go. I suggest that you go into a good nursing home where you will be a great deal more comfortable and have more to amuse you than you would in a boarding house, and at the same time there would be medical treatment available if you wanted it."
"Connie said nothing. There was a buzzing in her head that turned all her thoughts upside down. The whole world was upside down. Olive had been to a magistrate.
"What was Sir Theodore talking about? Oh, yes, a nursing home. How funny he looked, standing over her and wagging his finger, and in a nursing home. A whimsical little phrase from an army story of Donald's came to her.
"Thank you, Sir Theodore," she said. "But is this advice or—orders?"
"Take your choice," answered Sir Theodore with a smile. "The fact of the matter is that it's the one way for you to get well. That's all I think. In a month's time I shall come and see you again at the nursing home."
"Asylum," corrected Connie. "I am sane enough to realize that, you know."
With that last taunt—like a last, pitiful blow struck in self-defense—the girl's power of resistance crumpled. She buried her face in her hands to find that even the helm of tears had been taken from her. Her breath caught in a spasm of tearless sobbing. She knew that someone had come into the room. Olive? She would not speak to her. She would not look up. Whatever was coming to her in this world, gone back as a nightmare, there would never be anything she could say to Olive or to anyone else. Whenever she spoke people would smile and agree with her but dismiss everything she said. No body listened to a lunatic.
She started as a hand touched her shoulder and a voice of almost unnatural cheerfulness addressed her by name.
"Miss Elmore?"
She looked up into the face of a hospital nurse.
"I am afraid you're in trouble, but you mustn't mind me. I'm only a nurse, and you know, I'll stand so that the chauffeur can't see your face—but there, I don't believe you've been crying at all, really. You certainly don't show."
Connie allowed herself to be helped up.
"I am quite ready," she whispered. Keeping her eyes on the ground lest she should see Olive, she made her way out of the little flat, down the stairs and into Querk's car.
"Mansion house, please," said the nurse to Querk's chauffeur.
As Connie passed out of the little

PLAN SURVEY OF LAST LINK OF ROUTE 42

Jackson, Ga., September 21.—(Special.)—The survey of the highway from Indian Springs to Forsyth, the last link of the highway between Atlanta and Macon route No. 42 that has not been surveyed and located, will begin within ten days, a large delegation of Monroe and Butts county citizens assembled in Forsyth Tuesday afternoon were informed by C. W. Wright, third district division engineer.

The meeting was called to begin steps looking to the paving of this entire route and was attended by the county commissioners of the two counties, city officials of Forsyth and Jackson and interested citizens, Mayor A. M. Zellner, of Forsyth, president, and talks were made by several of the citizens of the two counties, including Senator J. O. Gaston, Representative R. A. Franklin and Mayor O. A. Pound, of Butts county; Hugh Hardin, J. M. Fletcher, Walter Bramblett and others of Monroe county.

The county commissioners of the two counties pledged their support to the new highway, which will link Atlanta and Macon by Stockbridge, McDonough, Locust Grove, Jackson, Indian Springs and Forsyth.

Interest and enthusiasm ran high at this meeting and as soon as the survey has been completed it is expected that grading will begin within a short time.

More than 50 Butts county citizens attended this meeting and they were met by an equal number from Monroe county.

BOOKER T. WASHINGTON NEPHEW TO SPEAK

Roscoe Conkling Simmons, well-known orator, will speak at the Auditorium armory Thursday night, September 23. Colonel Simmons is the nephew of the late Booker Washington, and was partly reared in Washington's home.

He has traveled extensively in many parts of the world, and has won distinction by public speaking on international subjects. He always draws a very large audience from the white community whenever he speaks in Atlanta.

DENTAL COLLEGE BEGINS NEW YEAR ON SEPTEMBER 29

With a total enrollment of more than 300 students, the Atlanta-Southern Dental college will begin its 1927-1928 session at 11 o'clock September 29, with appropriate exercises in the new college buildings at Forrest avenue and Courtland street, according to Dr. Ralph R. Byrnes, executive dean.

Dr. Sheppard W. Foster, president of the college, will preside at the exercises, and the principal speaker of the occasion will be the Rev. W. L. Duren, pastor of St. Mark's M. E. church.

The year 1927-1928 marks the second session of the college, in which one year of college, pre-dental work is required for entrance, in compliance with the standards set by the Dental Educational Council of America for all class "A" dental colleges throughout the United States.

It is announced that two new faculty members will be added to the staff for the coming session. They are Dr. Thomas B. Sharp, who will be associate in prosthetic techniques, and Dr. N. T. Peague, who will be an instructor in the dental infirmary of the college. Both Dr. Sharp and Dr. Peague are graduates of the Atlanta-Southern Dental college. With the addition of these two men the faculty of the college for the coming session will number 33 professors and infirmity instructors, of which number ten are full-time teachers.

SIBLEY HEARS $1,000,000 ROAD PATENT SUIT

Defense counsel in the suit brought by Sam E. Finley against the McDonough Construction company for approximately $1,000,000 in an effort to establish his right to two road patents, which is being heard before Judge Samuel H. Sibley in federal court, Wednesday afternoon began the reading of several depositions to substantiate his claims that the Finley method is not a novelty and that they had a right to use it in construction of Roswell road.

The hearing entered its third day Wednesday and is slated to continue through the remainder of the week.

JUNIOR CHAMBER WILL HAVE LOPEZ AS GUEST TODAY

Vincent Lopez, wizard of jazz, will be guest of honor today at the Junior Chamber of Commerce luncheon meeting in the Chamber of Commerce building. Charles J. Hilkey, dean of the Emory law school, will be principal speaker.

The entertainment program includes Woods Miller, baritone at the Howard this week, with a costar, Miss Lavonia Turner, soprano. Bobby ("Uke") Henshaw, whose ukulele numbers have attracted a great deal of attention among Capitol theater patrons this week, will round out a program arranged by Richard J. Reynolds.

"Digestamin is the only thing we found that would check nausea without fail during that critical first few months of birth expectancy," writes a grateful user of this remarkable preparation.

Most great things, as well as great men, are notable for their simplicity. Digestamin follows this rule. It contains no harmful or habit-forming drugs, but owes its remarkable efficiency to a perfect balance of simple but effective digestive remedies.

MUSIC CLUB TICKETS ON SALE WEDNESDAY

Tickets for the Atlanta Music club's forthcoming season on sale next Wednesday in the new headquarters at the Phillips & Crew company, it is announced Wednesday by Miss Helen Knox Spain, executive secretary.

The 1927-1928 season has a prospect one of the most ambitious schedules of recent years, while the club's post-seasonal enrollment is today the greatest in its history.

Unusual interest is being evinced this year by music-lovers in all quarters of the state. Many new members have been added from Rome, Cedartown, Gainesville, Carrollton and other Georgia cities.

The opening number of a series of eight concerts will be a joint recital with Mabel Garrison, soprano, and the Salzedo ensemble of seven harps, on the night of November 2 at the city auditorium. Three of these recitals will be matinees.

The season closes on May 11, during National Music week.

Twelfth Indicted Man to Surrender In Flogging Case

Birmingham, Ala., September 21.—(P.)—J. O. Sizemore, the twelfth man indicted by a special grand jury which recently investigated floggings in Jefferson county, was to give himself up to county officers today, Sheriff Hartsfield said. Bond for Sizemore has been set at $20,000 on two charges of kidnapping.

Sizemore, who was indicted in connection with the whipping of John Bolton several weeks ago, has been in Mississippi for several days and word of his indictment was not made public until given out by the sheriff today.

Eleven other men are at liberty on bonds pending trial on charges of kidnapping in connection with the whipping of Bolton, Arthur Hitt, a negro, Dan Mitchell and Eston Murchison. No trial date has yet been set.

FATHER AND SON KILLED IN GUN FIGHT AT BRISTOL

Bristol, Va.-Tenn., September 21.—(P.)—Creed Frazier, 49-year-old farmer, mortally wounded in a gun fight yesterday in which his son, Will Frazier, was killed, died at a Bristol hospital. John Barnett, 27, held in the jail at Gate City, Va., has confessed that he fired the fatal shots, Sheriff C. C. Palmer said.

The shooting occurred in Scott county, Virginia, at a sawmill about three miles southeast of Clinchport. The cause of the trouble was unknown to officers.

SUNDAY SCHOOL TRAINING SLATED FOR DRUID HILLS

A training school for Sunday school workers of the North Atlanta district, North Georgia conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, will be held at the Druid Hills church September 25-30, it is announced by the Rev. Homer Thompson, Atlanta, conference superintendent of Sunday school work.

The Rev. W. P. Bloodworth will be educational director. Members of the faculty are Dr. W. A. Shelton, Emory university; Dr. Hugh H. Harris, Emory university; Mrs. Hugh H. Harris, Emory university; Dr. Homer Thompson, Atlanta; Miss Mary Lemmon, elementary superintendent of the North Georgia conference, Atlanta, and Mrs. Mildred Stokes, Atlanta.

Several hundred Sunday school workers from the section covered by the North Atlanta district are expected to attend the training school at Druid Hills.

Yaarab to Help Dedicate New Greenville Hospital

Final arrangements have been completed for the pilgrimage of Yaarab temple to Greenville, S. C., to participate in the dedication of the Crippled Children's hospital in that city on September 26.

A special train on the Southern railway will carry Yaarab's caravan, leaving Atlanta at 10:30 a. m., en route to Greenville at 10:30 a. m. on Monday, September 26, and arriving in Greenville at 10:30 a. m. on Tuesday. The fare for the round trip will be $5, and none but Shriners will be carried on the special train. Those not belonging to the Shrine may travel on the Piedmont Limited at the same fare.

Potestate Tom C. Law will be accompanied by members of the Divan, several past potentates, the band, patrol, chanters, oriental band, and a number of unattached nobles. The caravan will be met at the Southern station by the officers and organization of Hejaz, Oasis and Omar temples, together with the imperial potentate, other imperial officers and members of the hospital board of trustees. After a parade, luncheon will be served at three hotels to the visitors, the dedication ceremonies taking place at 2:30 p. m.

The Crippled Children's hospital at Greenville was built and completely equipped by W. W. Burgess, a citizen of Greenville, who is not a member of any Masonic organization, and presented to the Shrine of North America. Following the dedication ceremonies there will be entertainment similar to that which takes place at imperial council meetings, with a big ball in the evening.

Yaarab's caravan will remain in Greenville overnight, leaving there at 9:15 on the morning of September 27. A stop of 25 minutes will be made at Toccoa, where members of Yaarab temple residing in and about that city will entertain. The next stop will be made at Cornelia, where shriners and citizens will give the caravan a royal reception. Arriving at Gainesville at 1:25 p. m., luncheon will be served the travelers, following which there will be a parade. The patrol going to the boys' academy to put on an exhibition drill, and the chanters to the girls' school to give a concert. The band will play in the public square during this time. Leaving Gainesville at 4 p. m., eastern time, the special will arrive in Atlanta at 5 p. m. All members of Yaarab temple are invited to make the trip.

STOCK ASSESSMENT BY AGENT IS VOIDED

A. fi. fa. issued by the state banking department against James L. Giles, of Douglasville, a bankrupt, was declared to be void Wednesday by Judge Samuel H. Sibley following hearing on contentions of attorneys appearing for the trustees in bankruptcy who claimed that the assessment was made by an agent, whereas the superintendent of banks alone could determine the necessity of stock assessment.

Judge Sibley upheld this contention and in a lengthy ruling set out that assessments against stockholders to defunct Georgia banks must be fixed by the state superintendent of banks himself, as this power is a judicial function and too broad to be delegated to an agent or assistant.

A stock execution for $500 was issued against Giles by W. J. Davis, general agent of T. R. Bennett, former state superintendent of banks, and has been recorded for more than four months before the bankruptcy proceedings. The banking department claimed that the amount must be paid in full.

Baptist Association In Session at Athens; Noted Speakers Present

Athens, Ga., September 21.—(Special.)—Louis D. Newton, editor of the Christian Index, official publication of the Georgia Baptist convention, and Dr. John D. Mell, president of the convention, are among the speakers at the meeting of the Georgia Baptist association being held at the Prince Avenue Baptist church here. Dr. Mell is moderator of the association. Dr. Arch C. Cree, Dr. A. S. Chamblee, president of Bessie Tift college; Dr. T. W. Ayers, formerly missionary to China, and W. P. Anderson, manager of the Baptist Orphan's home, are also scheduled to speak during the meeting.

DROP IN RETAIL FOOD PRICES SHOWN IN REPORT

Washington, September 21.—(P.)—Retail food prices reported to the labor department from 51 representative cities over the country showed a decline during August to a level of a half of 1 per cent below July averages, and stood August 15 at 2 per cent below the average of a year ago. On the other hand the average price in Memphis, Tenn., showed a rise of 2 per cent, with increases of 1 per cent in Los Angeles, Norfolk, Washington, D. C., Portland, Maine, Providence, Chicago showed a decline of 1 per cent and there was no change in New York.

Injunction of A. & W. P. Against "Commutation" Rate Upheld by Court

The Georgia supreme court Wednesday handed down a decision upholding the injunction obtained by the Atlanta & West Point railroad against the Georgia public service commission from forcing a "commutation" rate between Atlanta and Newnan, Ga., and intermediate points.

The railroad at time of securing the injunction before a lower court offered testimony to show that they already had a "commutation" fare existing between the points named, contending that it was as low as practical.

The case grew out of a petition of some of the citizens of Newnan in 1922 in which they asked that the commission establish such rates. This the commission did and the railroad's action was in the form of the injunction.

HERMAN W. BOOTH EXPELLED FROM STOCK EXCHANGE

New York, September 21.—(P.)—Herman W. Booth, member of the New York stock exchange since April, 1914, was expelled today for violation of the rules of the exchange. One of the charges on which he was found guilty by the governing committee was that he had failed to comply with the requirement of the committee on business conduct to submit his books and papers to the committee. The announcement of the expulsion was made from the rostrum on the floor of the stock exchange.

Lt. Colonel Thomas To Head Recruiting Station in Atlanta

Lieutenant Colonel Charles O. Thomas, Jr., with his wife and daughter, Helen, have arrived in Atlanta from Fort Ringgold, Texas. Colonel Thomas has recently served with the twelfth United States cavalry and is now assigned to duty as commanding officer of the Atlanta recruiting district of the army, with headquarters at 500 Throver building. The former recruiting officer, First Lieutenant James F. Morrison, will remain on duty as assistant to Colonel Thomas. During the world war Colonel Thomas was on duty at Camp Gordon and will be remembered by many of the Atlanta men who served there.

ATHENS MARKET AIDS IN SELLING PRODUCE

Athens, Ga., September 21.—(Special.)—Practically $10,000 was netted by farmers of this section during the summer months by selling produce to the Athens Market, Inc. It was reported to the board of directors yesterday.

The market was organized by Athens business men under auspices of the chamber of commerce. Its purpose was to find a market for produce grown by farmers in addition to their major crops. Many farmers are and have been selling hundreds of dollars worth of produce each year through the Athens curb market. The other market was organized to purchase produce under contract and its year has been very successful, it was reported.

Members Sought.

Plans for the acquisition of new members will be discussed today by the Georgia division, National Committee for Law Enforcement, meeting at 10 o'clock in the senate chamber at the state capitol, Mrs. J. E. Andrews, chairman for Georgia, will preside.

HOUSE OF DAVID CHARGES SPITE IN REPLY TO SUIT

St. Joseph, Mich., September 21.—(P.)—Concealed "of spite and a desire for monetary gain" is the House of David's reply in a brief filed today, to the assuasions of immortality against Benjamin Purnell, its leader, in the state's dissolution suit against the colony. The state's brief was filed a fortnight ago, reiterating the charges and demanding dissolution of the cult.

Counsel for the defense today asked Judge Louis H. Fead, hearing the suit, to enter a decree "effacing the shame and blot sought to be imposed upon a noble and respectable people."

In a ruling handed down Wednesday by Attorney General George M. Napier, the middle arising at the capitol over the interpretation of the Neill treasury bill passed recently by the legislature, was clarified and under this ruling various state departments will be permitted to use funds they have collected each year to pay maintenance expenses.

One clause of the Neill law provided that departments could draw only 75 per cent of the funds they collected. The law provides that all departments shall pay all funds collected into the state treasury. Under the Neill law the departments apparently would be able to draw out only 75 per cent of such funds, but after studying all phases of the law the attorney general ruled that such funds should be placed in the treasury to the credit of the department collecting them and should remain to the credit of such departments for six months after collection.

The attorney general declared that he did not interpret the law to mean that the departments should pay over their collections to the "general fund" of the state but should pay them over to the treasury to be kept as separate funds available for the use and support of the department collecting them.

Attorney General Napier declared that the law provides that appropriations due and not called for within six months of the end of the fiscal year shall revert to the general fund. He ruled that the moneys collected by the departments would fall under this head and that such moneys would be available for the support of the departments six months after the end of the fiscal year.

PUBLIC BUILDING BUREAU NEEDED, SAYS SAM SLATE

The state of Georgia needs a bureau to supervise the planning and control of public buildings owned by the state and such a bureau should be established in the office of the governor, according to a recommendation submitted Tuesday to Governor L. G. Hardman by Sam J. Slate, state auditor.

The board would prevent institutions from exceeding building appropriations and could assist the trustees of various institutions in their building plans. The recommendation was made in a report filed covering expenditures of the Georgia Agricultural and Mechanical college, of which Slate is president. The building program had only $8,000 left with which to purchase equipment and to complete payments of certain contracts covering building costs.

SALVATION ARMY NEEDS DISCARDED CLOTHES, STOVES

Sudden cold weather has brought a deluge of applications on the Salvation Army's social service department for heavy clothing and small stoves. It was reported Wednesday by Captain W. H. Range, commander of the department.

Captain Range asked that anyone who has surplus winter clothing, chiefly heavy underwear, or who wishes to install a new heating or cook stove for the winter, call the army at Ivy 2224 so that a wagon may be sent for the discarded articles.

N A V Y DIRIGIBLE HEADS SOUTHWARD IN 24-HOUR FLIGHT

Norfolk, Va., September 21.—(P.)—The navy dirigible Los Angeles left her hangar at Lakehurst this morning at 10 o'clock for an all-day and all-night "training flight." She is scheduled to moor tomorrow on the U. S. S. Paloka, which is now at the Hampton Roads naval base.

The Los Angeles was seven miles west of Sanford, N. C., at the latest report received from here at the Hampton Roads naval station, 8:30 p. m. She had previously passed over Raleigh and Durham.

The announcement of the expulsion was made from the rostrum on the floor of the stock exchange.

Lt. Colonel Thomas To Head Recruiting Station in Atlanta

Lieutenant Colonel Charles O. Thomas, Jr., with his wife and daughter, Helen, have arrived in Atlanta from Fort Ringgold, Texas. Colonel Thomas has recently served with the twelfth United States cavalry and is now assigned to duty as commanding officer of the Atlanta recruiting district of the army, with headquarters at 500 Throver building. The former recruiting officer, First Lieutenant James F. Morrison, will remain on duty as assistant to Colonel Thomas. During the world war Colonel Thomas was on duty at Camp Gordon and will be remembered by many of the Atlanta men who served there.

ATHENS MARKET AIDS IN SELLING PRODUCE

Athens, Ga., September 21.—(Special.)—Practically $10,000 was netted by farmers of this section during the summer months by selling produce to the Athens Market, Inc. It was reported to the board of directors yesterday.

The market was organized by Athens business men under auspices of the chamber of commerce. Its purpose was to find a market for produce grown by farmers in addition to their major crops. Many farmers are and have been selling hundreds of dollars worth of produce each year through the Athens curb market. The other market was organized to purchase produce under contract and its year has been very successful, it was reported.

Members Sought.

Plans for the acquisition of new members will be discussed today by the Georgia division, National Committee for Law Enforcement, meeting at 10 o'clock in the senate chamber at the state capitol, Mrs. J. E. Andrews, chairman for Georgia, will preside.

HOUSE OF DAVID CHARGES SPITE IN REPLY TO SUIT

St. Joseph, Mich., September 21.—(P.)—Concealed "of spite and a desire for monetary gain" is the House of David's reply in a brief filed today, to the assuasions of immortality against Benjamin Purnell, its leader, in the state's dissolution suit against the colony. The state's brief was filed a fortnight ago, reiterating the charges and demanding dissolution of the cult.

against Benjamin Purnell, its leader, in the state's dissolution suit against the colony. The state's brief was filed a fortnight ago, reiterating the charges and demanding dissolution of the cult.

Counsel for the defense today asked Judge Louis H. Fead, hearing the suit, to enter a decree "effacing the shame and blot sought to be imposed upon a noble and respectable people."

In a ruling handed down Wednesday by Attorney General George M. Napier, the middle arising at the capitol over the interpretation of the Neill treasury bill passed recently by the legislature, was clarified and under this ruling various state departments will be permitted to use funds they have collected each year to pay maintenance expenses.

One clause of the Neill law provided that departments could draw only 75 per cent of the funds they collected. The law provides that all departments shall pay all funds collected into the state treasury. Under the Neill law the departments apparently would be able to draw out only 75 per cent of such funds, but after studying all phases of the law the attorney general ruled that such funds should be placed in the treasury to the credit of the department collecting them and should remain to the credit of such departments for six months after collection.

The attorney general declared that he did not interpret the law to mean that the departments should pay over their collections to the "general fund" of the state but should pay them over to the treasury to be kept as separate funds available for the use and support of the department collecting them.

Attorney General Napier declared that the law provides that appropriations due and not called for within six months of the end of the fiscal year shall revert to the general fund. He ruled that the moneys collected by the departments would fall under this head and that such moneys would be available for the support of the departments six months after the end of the fiscal year.

PUBLIC BUILDING BUREAU NEEDED, SAYS SAM SLATE

The state of Georgia needs a bureau to supervise the planning and control of public buildings owned by the state and such a bureau should be established in the office of the governor, according to a recommendation submitted Tuesday to Governor L. G. Hardman by Sam J. Slate, state auditor.

The board would prevent institutions from exceeding building appropriations and could assist the trustees of various institutions in their building plans. The recommendation was made in a report filed covering expenditures of the Georgia Agricultural and Mechanical college, of which Slate is president. The building program had only $8,000 left with which to purchase equipment and to complete payments of certain contracts covering building costs.

SALVATION ARMY NEEDS DISCARDED CLOTHES, STOVES

Sudden cold weather has brought a deluge of applications on the Salvation Army's social service department for heavy clothing and small stoves. It was reported Wednesday by Captain W. H. Range, commander of the department.

Captain Range asked that anyone who has surplus winter clothing, chiefly heavy underwear, or who wishes to install a new heating or cook stove for the winter, call the army at Ivy 2224 so that a wagon may be sent for the discarded articles.

N A V Y DIRIGIBLE HEADS SOUTHWARD IN 24-HOUR FLIGHT

Norfolk, Va., September 21.—(P.)—The navy dirigible Los Angeles left her hangar at Lakehurst this morning at 10 o'clock for an all-day and all-night "training flight." She is scheduled to moor tomorrow on the U. S. S. Paloka, which is now at the Hampton Roads naval base.

The Los Angeles was seven miles west of Sanford, N. C., at the latest report received from here at the Hampton Roads naval station, 8:30 p. m. She had previously passed over Raleigh and Durham.

HERMAN W. BOOTH EXPELLED FROM STOCK EXCHANGE

New York, September 21.—(P.)—Herman W. Booth, member of the New York stock exchange since April, 1914, was expelled today for violation of the rules of the exchange. One of the charges on which he was found guilty by the governing committee was that he had failed to comply with the requirement of the committee on business conduct to submit his books and papers to the committee. The announcement of the expulsion was made from the rostrum on the floor of the stock exchange.

LAST RITES TODAY
FOR MRS. WIMPY

Final rites for Mrs. Emily Jane Wimpy, 85, beloved Atlanta and long prominent in church circles here, who died Tuesday afternoon at her home, 872 Arlington place, N. E., will be held from the residence at 10:30 o'clock this morning. Bishop H. M. DuBose, Rev. Samuel T. Center and Rev. H. M. Quillian will officiate and interment will be at Oxford, Ga.

Mrs. Wimpy was the widow of Colonel John A. Wimpy, prominent member at the Atlanta war for many years. Two years ago, Mrs. Wimpy was stricken with a serious illness. She was taken to California by a daughter and returned a year ago, her health apparently restored. A month past she suffered an attack of heart disease and was confined to her bed until the time of her death.

For more than 44 years Mrs. Wimpy was an active member of the First Methodist church, and the president of the Prayer and Relief society at the time of her death.

While a comparatively young woman, Mrs. Wimpy was suddenly stricken with a heart attack during which she had been a bed-ridden invalid. She attributed her recovery to divine power and the incident had a profound influence on her later life, leading her to become one of the most devoutly religious and influential of her congregation.

Surviving are two sons, W. E. Wimpy, of Clarkston, Ga., and Warren Wimpy, of Cleveland, Ohio, and two daughters, Miss Birdie Wimpy, of Atlanta, and Mrs. Robert A. Heard, of Concord, Cal.

A. W. CARMICHAEL

LAST RITES TODAY

IN M'DONOUGH, GA.

Funeral services for Arthur W. Carmichael, 83, of East Point, a former tax collector for Henry county for 12 years, who died at a private hospital Tuesday morning, will be held this morning at 10:30 o'clock from the McDonough Presbyterian church. The Rev. L. D. King will officiate and interment will be in McDonough cemetery.

The funeral party will leave the funeral parlors of J. Austin Dillon company, on South Pryor street, at 8:30 o'clock and go by automobile to McDonough.

Mr. Carmichael was prominent in business circles in Henry county for many years and at the time of his death owned several large tracts of land in that county.

He is survived by his wife, four sons, Howard L. Carmichael, East Point undertaker; W. M. Carmichael, of Marietta, Texas, and S. R. and P. M. Carmichael, of McDonough, and three daughters, Mrs. C. D. Beeland, Mrs. T. A. Lisse, of West Palm Beach, Fla., and Mrs. M. I. Harper, of Birmingham, Ala.
